WILSON ISSUES PUBLIC APPEAL FOR DRAFT LAW

His Nation's Duty on Eve of Battle in Congress on Army Act.

(By a Staff Correspondent.) Washington, D. C., April 19.—(Special.)—Impressed by the formidable opposition to the administration bill in congress, President Wilson today issued a public appeal for the support of the principle of selective conscription.

The president's argument is contained in a letter to Representative Johnson of Kansas, a Democrat who favors the administration bill, the selective conscription feature of which has been subordinated to the volunteer system by the house committee.

The president issued his appeal on the eve of what is expected to be one of the most important legislative battles in the nation's history when the conscription bill comes up for passage.

WILL NOT UNDERSTOOD.

The president's letter follows: "The inquiry of my letter of April 19 because I have realized that what you say from my own words, namely, that what is meant by conscription is the selective draft, is generally understood throughout the country.

"The process of the draft is, I think, very clearly set forth in the bill drafted by the war department and which I am sending to you. It is a bill which I think is worthy of the support of the people of this country.

WANT FORMS OF SERVICE.

"I think the other day in an address to the people of the country to select the men of the country to go to the war, I said that the military part of the service was by no means the only part, and perhaps, all things considered, not the most vital part.

"The object is a mobilization of all the productive and active forces of the nation and their development to the highest point of cooperation and efficiency, and the idea of the selective draft is that those should be chosen for service in the army who can be most readily spared from the prosecution of the other activities which the country needs in and to which it must devote a great deal of its best energy and ability.

VOLUNTEER PLAN FAILS.

"The volunteer system does not do it. When men choose themselves they choose without due regard to their responsibilities. Men may come from the farms or from the mines or from the factories or centers of business who could not be come but ought to be back of the armies in the field and see that they get everything that they need and that the people of the country are sustained in the meantime.

"The principle of the selective draft, as set forth in the bill, is that there is a universal obligation to serve, and that a public authority should choose those upon whom the obligation of military service shall rest, and also to choose those who shall do the work of the nation's work.

MEANS SERVICE BY ALL.

"The bill if adopted will do more, I believe, than any other single instrumentality to create the impression of military service in the army and out of it, and if properly administered will be a great source of stimulation.

"Those who feel that we are turning away from the volunteer system will find that the bill will be needed to fill the ranks of the regular army and the national guard, and that a very great field of individual contribution lies there wide open, steadily and sincerely yours,

"WOODROW WILSON."

REPORT IN HOUSE. Although there seems little reason to doubt the early and easy passage of the conscription bill by the senate, the length of the volunteer element in the house, aided by the pacifists and protectionists, is considerable.

The conscription bill will come up in the house Monday. Full discussion will be permitted. The volunteer bill, however, will be introduced in the house today and will be reported out by the committee.

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

LONDON, April 19.—Food strikes have taken place in Vasterik, Karlstad, and Kalmar, Sweden. In Stockholm the milk dealers are reducing the amount of milk allowed to customers. Oat meal has vanished from the market, and it is difficult to get butter.

LONDON, April 20, 4:58 a. m.—The Times says that as a result of the government's appeal to farmers to plow grass lands, 300,000 acres have been added to the grain growing area in England and Wales. The acreage in Scotland has been increased by 50,000 and in Ireland by 500,000.

New York, April 19.—Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the national food commission, in a cablegram today to James E. West, chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America, urged that the services of the organization be employed in planting beans, "so that the biggest bean crop ever known will be the contribution of the Boy Scouts to America and her allies."

New York, April 19.—Lord Aberdeen, former lord lieutenant of Ireland, asserted that the entrance of the United States into the war was an act to uphold "honor, truth, and justice." Referring to the loyalty of the Irish in the war, Lord Aberdeen said 173,772 Irishmen now were in the British army and navy. Of the first ninety Victoria crosses awarded during the war, thirty went to Irishmen, he declared.

Norfolk, Va., April 19.—The United States naval collier Sterling was so badly damaged in collision tonight with an unidentified steamer in Hampton Roads that it had to be beached near Sewall's Point to prevent it from sinking. There was no loss of life.

CHICAGO WOMEN IN DRAFT APPEAL TO CONGRESSMEN

Mothers and Social Leaders Urge Service by All.

Many letters urging universal service and selective draft are being received by their congressmen from Illinois mothers, club women, and social leaders. Among those recently sent from Chicago is one from Mrs. Cyrus Hall McCormick of 50 East Huron street, who urges congress to heed the mistakes made by England early in the war and profit thereby.

Cites Industrial Value. Mrs. McCormick's message follows: "Many of the women of Chicago are greatly disturbed that the law for universal military training and service may fall to pass. Hope you throw your influence in that direction also for the selective draft as opposed to the volunteer system. Men are needed for our agricultural district, our stock raising farms, ammunition factories, and many other industries just as much as for the trenches. Let us profit by England's mistake when she failed in the early stages of the war to recognize the industrial value as opposed to the trench value of men. Will you pass this word on to other representatives from Illinois?"

Mrs. C. HALL MCCORMICK.

Importance of Draft. Luther W. Bodman, secretary of the Lull Paper Board company, 111 W. Monroe, and residing at 1819 North State parkway, joins with his wife in the following appeal:

We wish to urge upon you the importance of furthering in every way possible to you the necessity of selective draft and of universal service instead of volunteer service.

L. W. BODMAN.

Mrs. W. K. Kenly of 1511 Astor street is another who favors service by all. Her letter says:

Sir: I hope you will use your influence to bring about universal military service and selective drafting.

There is also a message from "an Illinois mother and voter," as follows:

Dear Sir: As a mother and voter in Illinois I am writing to tell you how strongly I favor universal military service for our country. I beg you to use your large influence and vote for the immediate passage of the necessary legislation.

SCHEDULE SHIFT SAVES $6,000 FROM SIX YEGGS

The shifting from the winter to the spring schedule for milk wagon drivers saved the Union Dairy company, 833 South Hermitage avenue, more than $6,000 late last night when six armed men using a large touring car bound and gagged three checkers and then proceeded to blow open the safe in the company's office on the second floor.

They were frightened away as they were about to place the second charge of nitroglycerin in the safe, by a driver coming to work. On the winter schedule the milk wagon drivers do not start to work until 6:30 o'clock in the morning. The police believe the crackmen were aware of this and took their time, thinking they would not be disturbed. The spring schedule whereby the drivers start to work at midnight went into effect last night, a few weeks prior to the usual time, through an agreement with the drivers' union.

U. S. Troops and Mexicans Trade Shots Over Border

El Paso, Tex., April 19.—Snipers who fired at an American sentry stationed at the viaduct in the suburbs of this city were fired on in return by a squad of United States soldiers today. One Mexican was seen to fall.

Villa forces and government troops clashed at San Miguel de Babinora for the first general engagement of the campaign being made against Villa and his troops by Gen. Francisco Murguía, according to an official message received in Juarez today from Chihuahua. One hundred Villa soldiers were reported to have been killed and the Villa troops routed and driven into the mountains.

Still Loyal, but Can Be Pushed Just So Far

Federal agents yesterday ordered the removal of a sign in a window at 5127 Thomas street. It read as follows: "I love my country; I honor my country; I will fight for my country; I will bleed for my country; But when this C. war is over I'll be glad if I ever love my country."

CITY'S VEHICLE TAX UNAFFECTED BY DU PAGE CASE

Chicago interests, including the city collector's office, where there was anxiety for the fate of local revenue to the amount of $1,000,000 annually from the vehicle tax, may rest more easily today with the tacit assurance from Springfield that the Supreme court decision of yesterday does not affect the Chicago vehicle tax.

The ruling was handed down in a case brought by the state of Illinois against the village of Downers Grove to tax automobiles. Without any further light on the subject it was considered probable by Chicago automobile organizations that the Chicago vehicle tax law had been rendered invalid.

ALLIES CLEAN UP MILLIONS IN WHEAT PIT

Allied governments, dealing through local brokers, are credited with having made a profit of $3,000,000 in the last two months in "turns" on the wheat market. The allied governments are said to have taken a considerable fortune yesterday in the sale of 2,000,000 bushels of July futures at from $2 to $2.07½ a bushel. These prices are greater than any recalled by members.

It is estimated that not less than 90 cents a bushel has been made for the allies in the "turn" by which September wheat was bought with July profits at 80 cents a bushel under the July price. It was only a short time ago the allies' agents sold more than 2,000,000 bushels of May wheat in an endeavor to block the rise in price. On this they are said to have made a large gain.

It was said in La Salle street the allies have bought wheat futures in anticipation of shipments of cash wheat and thus have taken up 18,000,000 bushels. Also they have taken some 12,000,000 bushels of May and July corn and as much oats.

"Germany Will Not Yield to Hunger or Revolt"

Baltimore, Md., April 19.—Dr. Aloisio E. Taylor, former attaché at the United States embassy in Berlin, and inspector of German and British prison camps, tonight said that the United States must get into the field and help defeat Germany if peace is to come.

"We might as well make up our minds," he said, "that Germany will never be starved. The chances of a revolution are very poor."

SUMMARY OF THE WAR

Paris reports continued advances by French on western front. Capture three villages, a fort, and about 700 prisoners besides strong intrenchments on a front of more than a mile. Twelve German divisions reported in action between Soissons and Aubert. London reports further British progress east of Fampoux. Guns captured to date total 228. Berlin admits defeat in forest near Ville-aux-Bois and at Braye-en-Laonnois.

Rome reports advance on the Carso plateau, the capture of a strong position, all its defenders, and much loot.

Cologne Socialists adopt resolutions urging Germany to renounce annexation plans and to take initiative in peace move.

FRENCH STORM 3 VILLAGES AND TRAP GERMANS

Pocket Foe on Five Mile Front and Stream Over Strong Trenches.

BY ARTHUR DRAPER.

LONDON, April 19.—Though the valiant troops of Gen. Nivelle, "the old fox of the French army," continued to press heavily against the German forces today, the commander in chief desisted from the smashing blows he has delivered since the French offensive opened on Monday and successfully applied the well known "pinching" tactics to the German salient which projects into the French lines northeast of Soissons.

Swift advances drove the Germans back against the Chemin des Dames, the road which runs across the Craonne plateau, established the French on the summit of the plateau itself and pocketed the heavy German forces between Laffaux and Jouy.

On this five mile tongue of land, extending southwestward from the plateau, Von Hindenburg's men are faced with the alternatives of precipitate flight or certain surrender. They can not remain where they are.

NO STOP TO FRENCH DRIVE.

Beginning at the point of this salient and operating from the bridgehead on the Aisne, which they seized yesterday, the French drove ahead today, capturing Fort de Conde and swinging their line northward past Vailly, through the villages of Ailly and Jouy. From this point to Courtcon, where the French established themselves yesterday, the ground is all high-in fact, only a few yards lower than the most commanding positions the Germans still occupy on the Craonne plateau. The penetration here is on an average of more than three miles and well beyond the most difficult of the "Von Hindenburg line."

Near the Hurtelberg farm there was a sharp engagement, following which the French were able to occupy a strong point of support and send 600 prisoners and two 105 millimeter cannon to the rear. This success brings the Poilus dangerously near Craonne.

West of Bormerocourt also Nivelle's detachments made an important advance and captured another fifty prisoners.

COUNTER ATTACKS BEATEN.

Nowhere has Von Hindenburg been able to stem the French progress or regain a foot of the lost territory, though yesterday he threw in twelve new German divisions, or approximately 220,000 men, over the front from Soissons to Aubert.

The counter attacks organized on the largest scale and in the favorite German mass formation have withered under the shelling French fire without even reaching the lines at which they were aimed. 12,000,000 bushels of May and July corn and as much oats.

SWEET GERMAN TRENCHES.

Northwest of Aubert, which marks the eastern line of the French offensive, a brilliant action over a mile and a third front drove the Germans out of their strong organized trench systems, linked Aubert with the Mornevillers wood, and carried the French line to the outskirts of Vandessaintcourt, on the Suippe river.

This may indicate a French plan to drive the Germans out of the great strip of territory bounded on the northward by the Suippe, clear to its junction with the Aisne, northwest of Berry-aux-Bac.

Berlin insists that captured French orders prove that "French troops have only approximately attained their tactical aims, to say nothing of their strategic objects."

But whether this is true or not, more than 17,000 prisoners and nearly a hundred guns, not to mention the territorial acquisitions, are not calculated to depress the French.

31,000 CAPTIVES TO DATE. Two more batteries were captured by Gen. Nivelle's men today, and it is said many German guns have been buried in the mud and churned under by the hurricane of French fire.

Altogether in the grand offensive the

GERMAN DRIVE ON PETROGRAD ABOUT TO OPEN?

Russian General Staff Imparts News to the Public.

BULLETIN.

PETROGRAD, April 19.—Tribune, Chicago.—The newspaper Reth prints an inspired article preparing the people for a possible attack on Petrograd by German troops. Transports have been concentrated at Baltic ports. Parts of the German fleet now at Libau. Probable landings will be at Pernau or Reval on the Finnish gulf.

MILDRED FARWELL.

PLAN TO SPLIT RUSSIAN ARMY.

LONDON, April 19.—Reuter's Petrograd correspondent says the information concerning the preparations being made by the Germans for an attack on the Russian northern front was made public by the Russian general staff. "The opinion is," the correspondent says, "that the Germans contemplate a descent in the rear of the Russian right flank, either at Pernau or Reval or elsewhere on the Gulf of Finland. In connection with these preparations the military authorities note the recent withdrawal of German troops from some of the southern fronts, notably the line in Roumania."

NO STRONG POWER IN RUSSIA.

PETROGRAD, via London, April 19.—With conflict existing between the government and the council of workmen and soldiers' deputies, one cannot speak of a sole strong power in Russia, because a power which is menaced is not a power, but a semblance of power, says the Ritskia Volla in a statement which is considered a conservative estimate of existing internal conditions.

Optimistic assurances that the danger from the breach between the two governments is only trivial are extravagant. Statements that the country is facing complete disaster are equally misleading. The economic disturbance caused by the revolution has raised a problem the solution of which is not in sight.

As at present constituted, the government is without means to enforce any of its mandates except by appeals to the patriotism of the people. Without any strong central authority the masses realize that power is in their own hands.

Agitators Hurt Country.

There is evidence that the soldiers' and workmen's deputies are endeavoring to influence the country to support the government. Their task, however, is made difficult by a few radical agitators—influences working against the success of a Russian democracy, whose demands include a four hour working day, 100 per cent increase in wages, a month's holiday, two months' extra wages at Easter and Christmas, and a general usurpation of owners' privileges, which would be tantamount to confiscation of factories.

Reports from the army are still conflicting, but in general they appear to show improvement in discipline.

JAIL IF HE DOES; JAIL IF HE DOESN'T

Frederick Munzberg of 8741 Prairie avenue is a national guardman and technically, at least, he is an alien enemy to boot. The combination of these circumstances puts him in a quandary. Munzberg has taken out his first citizenship papers. He can't become a full fledged citizen as long as the war lasts. Under the president's proclamation and the orders issued yesterday by the attorney general, Munzberg may be summarily arrested and indefinitely detained if he ventures within a half mile of a government arsenal, vessel, navy yard or other specified government property.

As a national guardman he may be charged with desertion if he fails to go within the half mile limit as a guard.

"I'm anxious to do my duty by the flag, but I don't want to be subject to arrest for it," Munzberg declared when he appeared at the federal immigration bureau in search of a way to get his second citizenship papers.

Spain Has New Cabinet Led by Marquis Prieto

MADRID, April 19, via London, April 20, 1:27 a. m.—Marquis Manuel Garcia Prieto, president of the senate, today formed a new cabinet to take the place of the ministry of Count De Romanones, which had tendered its resignation.

Marquis Prieto at various times held the portfolios of minister of foreign affairs, minister of justice, and minister of public works. He is a member of the permanent Hague tribunal.

HOUSE CAUCUS OF DEMOCRATS FOR IT, 87 TO 60

President Has War Power to End the Traffic, Advocates Say.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., April 19.—(Special.)—National prohibition of the liquor traffic as a measure to promote military and economic efficiency looms large on the legislative horizon tonight.

A proposal to make such legislation a part of the war program of congress at this session was introduced in a caucus of house Democrats this afternoon by a vote of 87 to 60.

The unexpected victory of the prohibition forces threw the caucus into turmoil. Many "wet" Democrats left the meeting, and at one time the gathering seemed to be on the point of dissolving into a general riot.

Then in order to sidetrack the embarrassing question Majority Leader Kitchin withdrew his pending program of legislation to which prohibition had been added by this surprising vote and caused the adoption of a blanket resolution to consider no legislation except that proposed by the president.

WILSON FOR PROHIBITION. Earlier in the day it had become known that national prohibition is one of the war measures being considered by the administration. Several members of the cabinet, including some members of the council of national defense, are urging the adoption of the measure.

The president has been advised by the proponents of the plan that he possesses authority to suspend the manufacture and sale of liquor during the war period by executive order, on the ground that the step is necessary to the most effective prosecution of the war. It is contended that prohibition not only would enhance the efficiency of the nation, but would promote the conservation of food resources by diverting grain from the distilleries and breweries to the flour mills.

MARTIAL LAW FIRST?

Opponents of the proposal in the administration contend that the president lacks the authority to suspend the liquor traffic as a war measure unless he first proclaims martial law throughout the country.

Likewise it is contended by the prohibition forces that congress possesses the power to proclaim prohibition as a war measure by a majority vote of the houses. The opposition insists that even as a war measure this would be unconstitutional.

It is learned also that the members of the general medical board, of which Dr. Franklin H. Martin of Chicago is chairman, recommended national prohibition as a war measure when conferring with the council of national defense last Monday. The defense council has decided not to press the matter one way or another, it was announced tonight.

HOW DRY MOVE CAME.

The caucus of house Democrats was called for the purpose of framing a program of legislation to be considered at this session.

The prohibition storm broke over the caucus without any premonition. Representative Decker of Missouri moved that there be added to the program the consideration of legislation establishing national prohibition as a war measure.

"I advocate this kind of legislation as a war measure," said Mr. Decker. "The president has advised the farmers to till more acres of land; he has advised the women and children of the cities to plant gardens and raise vegetables. Why, then, squander wheat and corn and rye and barley in a form that does no good and that does no meat harm? If children must eat less meat, if laborers must eat less bread, is it asking too much to insist that we do away with booze during the war?"

CHICAGO WETS IN TILT.

Mr. Decker's utterance precipitated an extremely heated debate in which the New York and Chicago "wets" figured conspicuously. Finally Mr. Decker called for the yeas and nays on his motion and the "wets" were unable to prevent the showdown. When it was announced that war prohibition had been introduced a score of Boston and New York "wets" departed from the hall in high dudgeon.

Mr. Kitchin now finding his resolution embodying the program of war legislation loaded down with the prohibition item, withdrew it and moved that the committee be instructed to consider no legislation save those bills proposed by the president. This motion was adopted by a vote 700 to 20.

PRESS MUZZLING IS TOPIC IN HOT TILT IN SENATE

Censorship Foes Hold It Would Violate the Constitution.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., April 19.—(Special.)—A long battle over the press censorship provision of the espionage bill was waged in the senate today without decision at the hour of adjournment. An amendment offered by Senator Thomas of Colorado was pending to strike from the bill the entire subsection which senators declared would muzzle the press.

Senator Borah of Idaho led the fight against the provision of the bill, which he insisted violated the constitution and the right of free speech and the freedom of the press should be guaranteed.

He was seconded by Senator Johnson of California, Senator Brandegee of Connecticut, Senator Reed of Missouri, and others.

On the other side of the argument were Senators Nelson of Minnesota, Walsh of Montana, Sterling of South Dakota, Colt of Rhode Island, and Fall of New Mexico.

Drastic and Nebulous.
This is the second time, Senator Borah told the senate, "so far as I have been able to discover," in which any such legislation has ever been proposed in this country. A casual reading of this provision of the bill will show that it is omnisciently comprehensive, drastic, and nebulous in its terms and uncertain in its import. No man can foresee what might be its consequences.

"During the days of the civil war," Mr. Borah continued, "when Mr. Lincoln was being criticized as no man ever was in public office by one of the great journals of the country, and which is still a great journal in this country, his reply was that the administration had better suffer some of the evils and sorrows which accompanied such work than that the people should lose control of or forfeit the great benefit flowing from the absolute freedom of the press.

"We are all Americans in perfect accord to leave undone nothing which we can do properly to keep information from the enemy. No one wishes to leave information free to be published, but the evils that might flow from that are not commensurate with the evils of abridging the liberties of the press."

Patriotism vs. Rights.
Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia criticized the bill. "I don't think," he said, "that we should let our patriotism and earnest desire to sustain the president make us forget the rights of the citizens of the United States."

"I am sorry," said Senator Nelson of Minnesota, "that more senators do not remember the civil war. I remember well how our armies were hampered by publication of all sorts of news. There is no purpose in this bill to prevent criticism. It is to prevent publication of news regarding the organization of the army and navy and their movements on land and sea."

The First Infantry has obtained its needed horsehoes by going direct to Edward O'Grady, president of the National Horsehoes association, who agreed to supply them for the machine gun, supply and headquarters companies of the regiment.

Twenty Oak Park girls have joined Edna George Welch in his recruiting efforts in Oak Park, and will parade Oak Park tomorrow in midday blouses and skirts to match, seeking enlistments for the navy.

The First Infantry armory now holds only I and L companies, all the others having been assigned to guard duty outside the city. The two companies will be kept here as reserves.

Wilson Issues Appeal on Draft

Kahn of California, ranking Republican member of the committee. Representative Kahn conferred today at length with Secretary of War Baker in order to be able to speak authoritatively for the administration during the debate in the house on the bill.

O. K'D TO THE SENATE.
The senate military committee today reported out the bill almost exactly as it was proposed by the war department. The report contained a scathing arraignment of the volunteer system. A minority report favoring the volunteer system is expected.

Advocates of the measure are urging that it be passed in the senate at once, thus giving to the house with the prestige of having passed the senate by an overwhelming vote. However, there are grave doubts now whether the senate will reach the army bill before Tuesday or Wednesday, after the house shall have taken up the Dent bill.

What the Report Says.
The report of the majority of the senate committee on the conscription bill is entitled "Universal Liability to Military Service."

"This measure," the report reads, "desires to provide large armed forces to meet effectively the present great national emergency, proceeds in recognition of the just principle of universal liability to national military service, and adopts, with modifications to suit

NEWLYWED CAN'T HIDE BEHIND WIFE'S SKIRTS

All Men Married Since
War Began Affected by Ruling of U. S.

The males who have swarmed into the marriage license bureau since the outbreak of war and transformed themselves into "husbands with dependent wives" have not succeeded in evading military service. The war department announced yesterday that this would constitute no defense at all when the recruiting officer comes around.

The department's statement was as follows:
"All men married since the outbreak of war will be treated upon the same basis as unmarried men in so far as their military obligations are concerned. It is desired that the utmost publicity be given by the press to this announcement."

"Skirtlifters" Counted.
Not far from 5,000 males in Chicago will be interested in the announcement, but apparently most of them are willing to hide behind their wives' skirts have been counted, for the number of applications for marriages is returning to normal.

The day's recruiting figures were again under 900, with the bad weather largely responsible. The navy and marine corps are increasing their campaigns for recruits, sending agents into the smaller towns to stimulate enlistments.

Chicago, always a great source of supply for army and navy, has now established an enviable leadership, recited by Maj. Gen. Barnett of the marine corps in his letter of congratulation to Capt. William Brackett of the Chicago office. He stated that in marine recruits since the declaration of a state of war Chicago not only leads both New York and Philadelphia but has a total in excess of these two cities combined.

Total Gains 2,390.
Total gains for the marine corps since war began are 2,390, with the personnel now standing at 15,656, compared with 12,270 on Feb. 13, when the present growth began. The navy has grown from 54,469 to 74,026 in the same time. The net gain for both on Wednesday was 1,830. On that day the army netted 2,390 men.

Commercial organizations throughout the country are now asked to aid the different branches of the service in getting recruits. At a conference between Benjamin Tait and Richard Watterson of the Chicago Chamber of Commerce and Capt. W. A. Moffett and Lieut. L. M. Stevens of the navy it was decided to send out a call for help through the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in whose membership are most of the great commercial bodies of the country.

And that's their spirit—the spirit of the volunteers of 1917.

BRITISH FLEET GLAD OF U. S. AID

BY JOSEPH W. GRIGG.
(Copyright, 1917, by News Publishing Company (New York World).)

WITH THE BRITISH GRAND FLEET, April 19.—The greetings of Britain's great fighting fleet to the people of America may be epitomized in these words:

"We are glad you are in it with us, and we know full well what you can do."

As I stepped on the deck of one of the newest sea giants the marines had just finished playing "God Save the King." Its notes were hardly lost in the cold morning air when the band played "The Star Spangled Banner."

The seriousness of this campaign is fully realized by the British navy. I have heard expressed on all sides the gratifying belief that the stars and stripes soon will be flying in European waters.

Two recent pronouncements of President Wilson had the heartiest and most sympathetic reception in this great fleet. The first was his speech to congress giving the reasons for making war on Germany. One admiral asked that it be read to the assembled crew of his flagship. The president's latest appeal for a united effort of the entire country was the other. It was regarded as conclusive evidence that the great emergency of America was already working at top speed in the right course to success.

FRENCH FRONT

PARIS, April 19.—Between the Somme and the Oise quiet violent artillery actions were in progress.

North of the Aisne the enemy, under our energetic pressure, continued to withdraw in the direction of the Chemin des Dames. Our troops in the course of the day occupied the villages of Aisy, Jouy, and Launoy, and kept in close contact with the enemy. Fort de Condé (northwest of Oise-Sur-Aisne) also fell into our power.

In the region of Hurlébas, after a spirited engagement, we occupied a point of support north of that farm, taking 500 prisoners and two cannon of 105 millimeters.

West of Bernécourt we made an important advance and captured about fifty prisoners. We engaged the enemy's artillery action was continued furiously against the Massif of Moronvilliers. We enlarged our positions north of Mont-haut and repulsed two German counter attacks in that region and on Mount Carnillet.

Northwest of Auberville our troops brilliantly carried on a front of about one and one-third miles a system of trenches strongly organized, joining this village with the Moronvilliers wood, and drove back the enemy to the southern outskirts of Vaudenecourt. One hundred and fifty prisoners were captured in the course of this action.

In the Argonne a German attempt against one of our trenches in the direction of Bolante was easily repulsed.

Artillery fighting, at times quite spirited, took place in the region of Vauquois and on the left bank of the Meuse in the direction of Le Mort Homme.

DAY STATEMENT.
South and southwest of St. Quentin there was active artillery fighting. Patrol encounters occurred on the outskirts of the upper forest of Coucy. We took prisoners.

In the Champagne our successes on a great scale were continued. At Moronvilliers we attacked, achieving success everywhere. We carried Le Monthaut and several heights to the east of that point, including Hill 227.

In the region south of Moronvilliers in the course of an engagement last night we captured two more German batteries. On the front between Soissons and Auberville we have identified twelve new German divisions (226,000 men).

In the region of St. Mihiel a German attack on Romancourt farm was broken up by our fire. The enemy left prisoners in our hands.

GERMAN.
BERLIN, April 19.—The battle in the Champagne, northwest of Auberville, yesterday continued into the night. This morning the fighting increased in intensity as a result of the introduction of fresh forces.

Near Villers-Aux-Bois the forest position became unmanageable to us and we established ourselves in a rearward line.

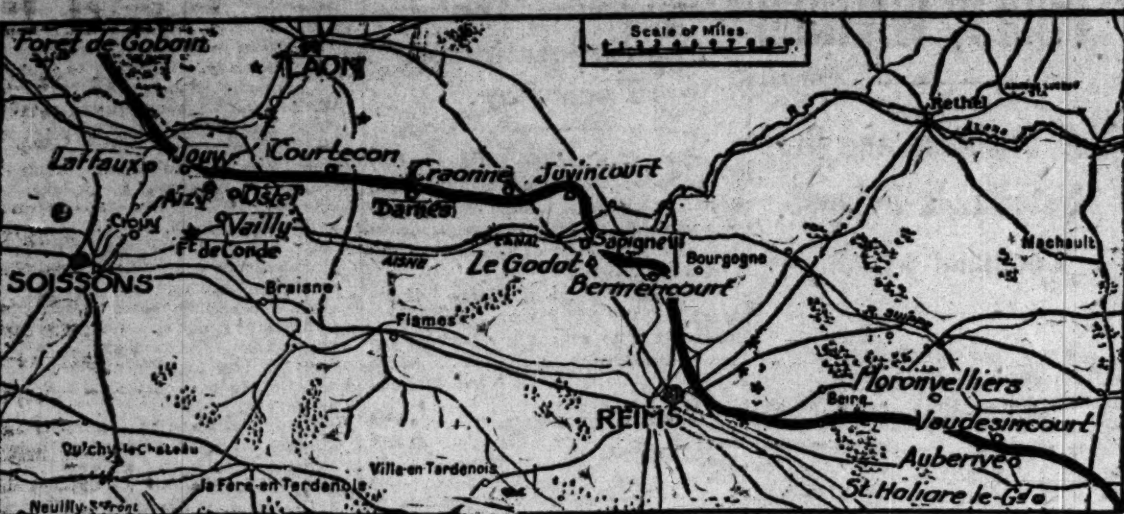

A local French attack near Bray-en-Launois succeeded, but assaults on the elevated front along the Chemin-des-Dames and near Craonne failed.

Documents which have been captured from the French indicate far-reaching objects of the French attack launched on Monday. At no point were the hopes of the French realized. Their troops only approximately attained their tactical aims, to say nothing of their strategic objects.

BRITISH.
LONDON, April 19.—We improved our position slightly south of Monchy-le-Franc. Today we progressed farther east of Pampou, and in the enemy's trenches southeast of Leob.

where we again captured prisoners. South of Lens an enemy bombing attack upon one of our advanced positions was successfully beaten off. The total number of guns captured to date is 228.

Last night there is nothing of special interest to report.

BELGIAN.
PARIS, April 19.—There was a violent artillery duel before Dixmude. Farther to the south, in the direction of Steenstraete, lively bomb fighting occurred.

MACEDONIAN FRONT

FRENCH.
PARIS, April 19.—On April 17 attacks of reconnaissance, supported by strong artillery preparation were carried out by the enemy in the direction of the Cerna in the region of Staravina; all of them were repulsed abruptly.

Before the Italian front, preparation for an enemy attack was stopped by artillery fire. Toward Monastir and Tisvina Stena, the enemy carried out a violent cannonade. We energetically counter shelled batteries in action near Gorizia. We drove the enemy beyond Moskopole and made Austrian prisoners.

The attack is a surprise attack by the enemy in the region of the lakes was repulsed. After violent artillery preparation the enemy attacked positions recently conquered by us in the neighborhood of Tarvina Stena and succeeded in gaining a foothold in some advanced elements. The battle continues.

The enemy artillery has been active.

ITALIAN FRONT

ROME, April 19.—In the Lagarina valley further effective firing from our heavy guns upon the station at Calliano caused great fires which were increased by a strong wind.

Minor engagements are reported in which we took prisoners. On the Julian front yesterday the artillery fighting was more intense in the region of Gorizia. On the Carso small Italian detachments, favored by darkness, crossed the defenses of an advanced position north of Castagnavizza. They occupied the position, capturing the defenders, arms and munitions.

AVIATION.
One of our aerial squadrons bombarded enemy establishments in the regions of Chiapovano, Dorimberga, Rifembegga, and Comeno. All our machines returned undamaged.

GERMANS REVOLT IN 3 BRAZILIAN STATES, REPORT

Uruguay Masses Army on Border—Teutons Well Armed, Belief.

BUENOS AIRES, April 19.—Brazil's great German population in at least three states has revolted. Dispatches from Montevideo, Uruguay, today asserted the Teutons were well armed, even with some artillery.

The rebellion apparently centered in the Brazilian states of Rio Grande, Paraná, and Santa Catharina. The total German population in this section has been estimated at 500,000. Uruguayan dispatches today declared the Germans had attempted to dynamite the railway bridge at Santa Maria.

The government of Rio Grande province was said to be concentrating its strongest and most loyal troops at Porto Alegre. Uruguay also is massing troops on the border.

Lives Lost in Fight.
RIO DE JANEIRO, April 19.—A violent fight between a number of Brazilian sailors and a group of Germans in Porto Alegre resulted in "some loss of life," according to an official announcement today.

As a street car crowded with passengers passed a German hotel, several shots were fired from the building. A number of persons were wounded. This angered the people, and there was a renewed outbreak of violence directed against the Germans. Several Germans were arrested.

NORSE SHIP SUNK; U-BOAT IGNORES DROWNING CREW

LONDON, April 19.—The torpedoing of a Norwegian steamship with the loss of all on board except Capt. Karstein Olsen is reported in a Reuter dispatch from Christiania.

The captain says the submarine rose to the surface after the torpedo had been fired and watched twenty-nine persons drown without offering assistance. The Norwegian press comments bitterly on this incident. The Shipping Gazette says the present situation of Norway is worse than it was at war. It adds that the United States should have the most cordial cooperation of all the Scandinavian countries in the effort to shut off Germany from exports, even from neutral countries. "All neutrals ought voluntarily to break off commercial relations with Germany," it says.

SOCIALISTS GERMANY PEACE PR

Want Annexation Renounced and to Take Initia

COPENHAGEN, April 19.—The German Socialists have adopted a resolution on Germany to renounce annexation plans and take to secure peace, according to the Copenhagen Gazette.

The latest German news, says the Copenhagen Gazette, is that the Socialists have renounced the Berlin strike has been reached after a long and arduous decision by the party to resume work following the resumption of the German Socialists' strike.

An interesting light on the official reports. A count which was telegraphed, for instance, that the German Socialists had not been in the home consumption of the strike today, less than 100,000, heads its account. "Berlin Munition Strike." The paper says, "The strike has been completely on the march." The official news bureau, however, had not been in the home consumption of the strike today, less than 100,000, heads its account.

SOCIALISTS OF GERMANY URGE PEACE PROFFER

Annexation Plans Discussed and Berlin to Take Initiative.

BERLIN, April 19.—Socialists have adopted resolutions today to renounce all annexation plans and take the initiative in peace, according to the Communist press.

German newspapers to announce the official announcement of the peace initiative, the Communist press has reached after an almost unanimous decision by the metal workers' union following the grant of their principal demands.

According to the German papers, the official announcement of the peace initiative was made in a meeting of the Communist party in Berlin today. A censored account which was telegraphed abroad declared, for instance, that the meeting had not been attended by the Communist press, but that the Communist press had been hampered by the censorship, made its account of the meeting.

The paper says that work was completed on Monday in about 100 meetings and that 210,000 signatures were collected to the metal workers' union. As against these figures, the official news bureau in a statement to the press asserted that the number of signatures was about 125,000.

Munition Workers Still Out?

AMSTERDAM, April 19, via London, April 19.—The Berlin "Vorwarts" today says the male and female workers of the Deutsche Waffen und Munition Fabriken of Berlin decided yesterday, after three hours of lively debate, not to resume work but to send a delegation to Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor. The result of the interview of the chancellor was to have been communicated to a meeting of the workers which was fixed for today.

The Chicago Gazette reports various news in Leipzig. It says also that a day meeting was held at Stuttgart, today, for a discussion of the scarcity of food and that after the meeting the strikers marched in procession through the town. The newspaper does not say whether munition workers took part in the demonstration or other work was resumed.

Attack Austrian Peace Plan.

The proposal of Count Cernin, Austrian foreign minister, for a peace conference of all the belligerents, is attacked by Count von Reventlow in the Berlin "Zeuung" as meaning ruin to the German empire.

Reventlow declares that Count Cernin looks to account of the fact that the German empire is now fighting a war which must lead to victory.

Reventlow says that a conference on the basis of the principles recommended by the Austrian minister would destroy the German empire internally and externally.

TRAINING MINUS PAY IS BLOW TO OFFICER RESERVE

Washington, D. C., April 19.—[Special.]—Young men throughout the country who have taken examinations for appointment in the officers' reserve corps of the army learned with disappointment today that they cannot receive their commissions until they undergo three months of training in civilian camps just established by the war department.

Just why the order was given to stop issuing commissions is considerable of a mystery to men who entered into contract with the war department with the understanding that they would be entitled to commissions and pay if they passed the examinations.

800 AMERICANS ARE STRANDED IN SCANDINAVIA

New York, April 19.—More than 800 Americans are stranded in Scandinavian countries, unable to get home, and are beginning to feel want through shortage of food, according to three Americans who arrived today as members of the crew of an American tank steamship.

In all the Scandinavian countries, the three Americans asserted, the food shortage, occasioned by the submarine menace, is becoming serious.

England Bill Killed.

Springfield, Ill., April 19.—The House bill, proposing that the state pay $3,520,000 to adjudicate the claims of next of kin of victims of the Eastland disaster, was killed by the house judiciary committee today.

POTATOES $1.10, BEANS 20 CENTS, EGGS AT 40 CTS.

Speculation in Foods Is Becoming Popular, Experts Say.

Potatoes sold at $1.10 the peck yesterday in Chicago, eggs as high as 40 cents a dozen, and navy beans were retailed at 20 cents a pound. Stores began selling in limited quantities to prevent housewives hoarding supplies.

It is said that professional men, real estate dealers, and others who possess ready cash have entered the game of food speculation and have been buying provisions in the wholesale markets.

War Gives Chance for Reform.

"All food speculation should be stopped at once as a war measure," said Prof. F. C. Holden yesterday. "The government should force the holders to sell at less than they paid to teach them a good lesson. Many reforms can now be brought about which could not have been before the war."

"The government should not permit the manufacturers of tin cans or glass cans to raise their prices at this time."

"My work with the garden bureau reveals to me 100 starving families a day in Chicago right now. I shudder to think what it will be by fall. One Polish woman came weeping to me yesterday, with a baby in her arms, saying she had five more little ones at home and has had no food in the house for two days."

Griffin Sends $1,000.

Joseph P. Griffin, president of the board of trade, sent a check for $1,000 to the Rotary club yesterday to start a fund to pay train fare of boys who enlist in the "farm army" which will be sent out of Chicago to the country this spring.

The Illinois Central railroad yesterday issued a booklet directing its employees how to make use of railroad owned lands for gardens. It advises every employee to get a garden.

The Woman's Catholic Club of Wilmette has organized for a garden campaign and the Political Equality league announces through Mrs. Kenneth McLennan of 645 Waveland avenue that for the present it will forsake suffrage for food production.

SECRET SESSION OF COMMONS ON FATE OF GREECE

LONDON, April 19.—Chancellor Bonar Law informed the house of commons today that the government had decided to hold a secret session of the house.

One of the subjects of discussion, Mr. Law said, will be the situation in Greece, which is under consideration by the entente allied governments.

On being asked by Laurence Ginnell whether the United States was being consulted with regard to Greece, the chancellor replied:

"Up to the present the United States has not taken any part in the discussion, but I have no doubt that as soon as arrangements are completed it will be consulted in every matter in which its interests are concerned."

This store, as usual, is in splendid condition to furnish its customers with plenty of groceries, and at a price that they will not be able to duplicate later on.

For example—a week ago we offered a certain line of peas at a certain price; in two days we sold about 600 cases and everybody got all they wanted.

FRIDAY, APRIL 20, 1917.

"Our Country! In her intercourse with foreign nations may she always be in the right; but our country, right or wrong."
—Stephen Decatur.

SUPPORT THE PRESIDENT

Pacifists, slackers, and pro-enemy agents are inundating congress with letters and telegrams. If you do not want this anti-American propaganda to succeed, write or telegraph to your senators and your congressman to support the president. Don't wait. Do it now.

THE IMPOSSIBLE VOLUNTEER SYSTEM.

If the obstructionists in congress block the president's urgently necessary defense plans and foil another experiment with the volunteer system on the country they will be responsible for the following direct results:

They will have given the greatest encouragement to Germany.
They will have prolonged the war.
They will have endangered victory.
They will have made certain during the most critical period of the war for us—the period of preparation—the maximum of inefficiency in the organization of the new army—
Because the volunteer system puts old men alongside of young men and thus reduces the unit to the level of the older men's capabilities, instead of permitting a proper combination of men according to age for different kinds of service.
Because it huddles men of one trade in the same unit instead of permitting their distribution as required in the field. One unit will have too many cooks, another none. Blacksmiths, badly needed by the cavalry, will go into the infantry, mechanics needed in the artillery will go into the cavalry, men who can't swim into the navy, and men who can't ride into the cavalry!

Because it opens the gate to political pull by which unit men are put into command, to retard through their incompetence the training of the army and sacrifice the lives of our soldiers in camp and battle.
Months must be expended in trying to correct this maladministration, months of which every minute counts for victory or defeat, and the maladministration will never get corrected. This is not theory. It is our experience in the past. It has been England's in our own day.
But the obstructionists will also have made certain of a corresponding disorganization outside of the army—
Because men needed at home will be in the army and men needed in the army will be at home. Experts needed at the front will remain in civil life, experts needed at home to carry on the activities to supply the army and to supply the nation will be in the army. Agriculture, for example, needs every available man, woman, and child. Yet farm boys are going into the navy and the army, and will go by thousands. In fact, under the volunteer system they must be accepted to fill the places of slackers who will not volunteer.

The obstructionists will make certain finally that the patriotic man, the man of unselfish devotion, the man intelligent enough to understand his duty and the meaning of a great cause, takes up alone the common burden, and is the first to be lost to his country.

The volunteer system is an outrage upon democratic citizenship. It can be defended only by sentimentalists, self-seekers, or ignoramus. It is not democratic, because it breaks the democratic law of equal service. It has been repudiated by the greatest of the democracies. It has cost vast waste of effort, untold waste of blood, injustice, unnecessary suffering, and defeat.

That this old wrong should rise again in our path and find defenders is a sickening commentary on the ignorance, prejudice, indifference, and cowardly irresolution of our representatives in congress.

The nation ought to rise and repudiate it. The president is leading. Who will refuse to support him?

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

As long as the Chicago public library was merely a stack of books and its librarians were caretakers, it made little difference to the public whether the library had a large income or a small. More books were bought or fewer books were bought.
The library today is something entirely different. It is mostly service. It has built up a system of offering books to the public in the most convenient way. The library is a live thing. It is not a museum.
Thus its present shortage of income means destruction of its usefulness, not a mere cessation of development. Under the July law its income was scaled down to .58 of a mill for every dollar of assessed value. The library board is not guaranteed any minimum taxing power.
The state senate has before it a bill which would guarantee it a minimum tax rate of eight-tenths of a mill. Because the Chicago library has developed itself into one of the most vital agencies for good citizenship it should be guaranteed an adequate income.

LETTING THE CADDIES DO IT.
No "Columbian crosses" will be planned on the doors of golf clubs by a grateful people because of the clubs' resolutions to have the caddies raise vegetables on the unused land of the golf clubs during the caddies' unemployed hours.
A weaker pretense at sacrifice for the common good could hardly be conceived than this.

Nor will the statement that sheep cannot be put on the golf courses because it would take them away from other pastures stand analysis.
Even if lambs which are now being sent to the slaughter house could not be saved in this way other kinds of stock could. Farmers who sell their calves do so because they cannot raise enough feed for them in addition to their other stock. If the golf clubs would buy calves at the age of weaning and allow them to pasture on the golf courses until fall they could add materially to the food supply of the nation. They would also release for constructive work a portion of their employees whose present employment is of no use to the nation at war. The only cost to golf players would be in having their greens a little less attractive, a sacrifice so little as to hardly deserve the name.

Furthermore, public opinion may compel the discontinuance of golf before the summer is over.

CAPT. STEEVER'S MILITARY PUPILS.

The most inspiring sight which has been seen in Chicago streets in this generation was that of yesterday, when Capt. Steever's 3,200 American boys with rifles paraded to show their purpose and reveal their intent to take in the nation's affairs.

They had been in possession of the rifles less than three weeks, some of them had had only three lessons, they had no uniforms, they had only one band, but they had determination, they already had learned military discipline, they kept their eyes ahead and their mouths closed, and they were men for their years.

Their chests were out, their carriage was determined, and they were proud of themselves and of the part they were fitting themselves to take. If Capt. Steever can do this with Chicago boys within three weeks, he will do an incalculable good to this community if he is allowed to remain in charge of pupil training for even two months.

There is no other post in which he could be put in which he could give equal value to the nation. He is making citizens here; not militarists, but citizens; self-reliant, courageous, honest, disciplined, dependable citizens.

The man or woman who saw that parade of high school students, who have, by their own will, subjected themselves to training and discipline, without feeling a profound emotion of thankfulness that such a thing could happen in this city of this republic was dead to nationalistic impulse.

WAR BRIDEGROOMS.

The war department announces that men who have married since our declaration of war will not be exempt from military service.

That is, they will not be exempt if the president's military plan is adopted.
But if it is defeated by the partisans of the volunteer system, every man who has married to avoid service will be exempt in spite of the war department.

That is the beauty of the volunteer system. Every shirker is exempt.

THE ENLISTED MAN.

Capt. Moffett's prompt and hearty endorsement of the offer of a little girl to write to some Jackie while in the service shows a welcome appreciation of the human needs of the enlisted man. It indicates why Capt. Moffett's success at the Lake Bluff station has been marked and why his recruiting measures have brought exceptional results.

The plan of writing letters to men undergoing the exactions and dangers of war has been carried out with good results abroad. Why not let our own defenders know the folks at home are thinking of them?

UNPLEASANT FACTS.

Before Chicago can hope to solve its Negro problem it will have to recognize that there is a problem to be solved. Well meaning and sentimental citizens will attempt to overlook it. Perhaps we can overlook it a few months. If we do, it will force itself on our attention the more insistently.

However we feel about it, southern Negroes have been coming to Chicago in such numbers as to force a rearrangement of our life here. They have to live somewhere, and whether reasonably or not, white people do not like to have them live in white communities. Race prejudice is unpleasant, but it is a fact, and any rearrangement we make has got to take that fact into account.

Mutual concessions, and a mountain of patience will be necessary in any solution of the problem. Most of the concessions and most of the patience will have to come, as usual, from the Negroes. Too great insistence upon their rights will only make their situation worse—more like the south.

It may be all wrong, unfair, and unjust, but whites, when they are willing to be reasonable about the Negro question, are, after all, only a little reasonable.

Editorial of the Day

ALL AMERICANS.

(From Omaha World-Herald.)

No more inspiring meeting has been held since war was declared than that at Hartington. The meeting had for its chairman, speakers, and chaplains men born in other countries. One of the speakers, Mr. Korper, born in Germany, said that when he landed in this country he had in his pocket 6 cents and a piece of summer-wear. Now he owns a large farm, well improved, which he declared he owed "to God and the American government." What thrilled the audience and will thrill every one who reads it, was a sentence in his speech, in which he said:

There is no such thing as a German-American man in either German or American, and I know the Germans in America are as loyal to the stars and stripes as the American born citizens. We have reared twelve children, and when the government needs them it can have seven soldiers and five nurses. Cedar county must be something of a melting pot. The Germans, Irish, and English all joined in the meeting and among the guests at the occasion were fourteen young men who had enlisted for the war and would start the next morning to begin their service. The foreign born in that county outnumber the native born, but they are all Americans.

NO EXEMPTIONS.

(From the Hatter, Idaho, Times.)

The country must have universal training without a single able bodied man being exempt. No poor man is going to do a rich man's fighting; no pauper will offer his life to save a millionaire's rent roll or other property.

VOLUNTEER SYSTEM FAILS.

(From the Wallace, Idaho, Miner.)

The volunteer plan is a failure under present methods of warfare; however well it has served the country in past wars. Besides, there is no justice in a system which in its operation means that a comparatively few whose patriotic ardor leads them to respond to the call for volunteers will fight the battles for the many.

As one nation with nation weeps And swears to keep our faith, our swords from rust Till we have raised the Lilies from the dust And brought to bleeding Belgium hope and aid; Then, through the Seven Seas, our flags unfurled Shall carry tidings to a weakened world.

Our Stars, your Cross, in freedom's new crusade, MARRIAGE.

IN these wild days it is repositful to hark back to periods of idyllic calm. There have been many, even in the brief life of this community. The grasshopper in the fable gadded blithely around all summer and in winter the high cost of living got him.

The ant got out in the hot sun and worked, and when winter came he had a supply of potatoes in his cellar and a large assortment of preserves on his pantry shelf.

AN old, old fable, that of the ant and the grasshopper, but entirely in disagreement with the facts, as Fabre shows in his book, "The Life of the Grasshopper."

THE RECRUIT.

(A. E. Houseman, "A Shropshire Lad.")

Leave your home behind, lad, And reach your friends your hand, And go, and luck go with you While Ludlow tower shall stand.

Oh, come you home of Sunday When Ludlow streets are still And Ludlow bells are calling To farm and lane and mill.

Or come you home of Monday When Ludlow market hums And Ludlow chimneys are playing "The conquering hero comes."

Come you home a hero, Or come not home at all, The lads you leave will mind you Till Ludlow tower shall fall.

And you will list the bugle That blows in lands of morn, And make the fogs of England Be sorry you were born.

And you till trump of doom-day On lands of morn may lie, And make the hearts of comrades Be heavy where you die.

Leave your home behind you, Your friends by field and town: Oh, town and field will mind you Till Ludlow tower is down.

MALIGNANT TYPHUS IN U.S.

MALIGNANT typhus—the kind they have in Mexico—is now slightly prevalent in California, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, and Kansas. A few cases have been reported in Iowa and Illinois. The continued unsettled conditions in Mexico, the demand in the United States for unskilled labor, and the unsettled conditions make it probable that typhus will be even more threatening within a year than it is now.

All school inspectors are agreed that the proportion of school children with head lice is very large. Letters received by this department indicate that louse infestation is frequently found among adults. The body lice found in all parts of the United States is the same insect as that which, when infested, carries typhus fever.

To protect this country against importation of typhus from Mexico the public health service is operating de-lousing camps at six points along the Mexican border.

The incoming removes all of his clothing and puts them in one bag. Shoes and articles that cannot be heated are placed in a second bag. The naked person then passes before an inspector. The head and hair are treated with a mixture of equal parts of kerosene and vinegar. The head is then wrapped in a towel and left for half an hour. Persons trying this method at home may need to repeat it the second time, as they probably would not carry it out as thoroughly as the public health service men.

STEEL HELMETS SAVE SOLDIERS

Herewith is printed the third of a series of articles by Capt. Reilly which will be of unusual interest in view of the entrance of the United States into the world war.

BY CAPT. HENRY J. REILLY.

PARIS, April 4.—It has been shown that, due to trench warfare, about 75 per cent of the wound on the front had been hit with shrapnel or pieces of shell traveling at a low velocity and therefore had torn wounds and in many cases smashed bones.

Twenty-three of these had fractured skulls, while the remaining nineteen had had scalp wounds. Of the thirteen who were helmets not one had a skull fracture. Five had wounds on the head, while none of those who had worn a helmet died, quite a number of those who had not died.

Last year in the academy of medicine Dr. Roussy brought up the point that due to the helmet the number of cases of sudden death from wounds in the head had been so decreased that the helmet was practically every case of injuries treated in the hospitals had materially increased.

The French helmet has proved such a success that Belgium, Italy, Serbia, Russia, and Rumania have copied their troops with the same model bought in France. The French helmet has a bursting bomb as insignia on its front and is light blue or khaki color, depending on whether it is worn by the Metropolitan, the French home army, or the French colonial army.

The Belgian helmet is khaki colored, with the Belgian lion on the front; the Italian, greenish blue with no insignia; the Serbian, khaki colored with the Serbian coat of arms; the Russian, khaki colored with the Russian coat of arms, and the Rumanian, blue gray with the Rumanian coat of arms.

Up to the present the French helmet has made nearly 12,000,000 helmets, using about 12,000 tons of steel. In other words, a ton of steel will make 1,000 helmets. The British also have equipped their troops with a steel helmet which has no ridge running from front to rear as has the Adrian, no decorations, and a rather wide brim, which runs all the way round. It is of a khaki color.

The Germans have issued to a certain number of their men, generally those who are most exposed in trench fighting, a steel helmet which is considerably heavier than any of the allied helmets, has a much higher crown, and comes down more over the eyes and the sides and back of the head.

All these helmets are supported by means of a leather skull cap inside, which fits closely to the head. It distributes the weight over the whole of the skull, instead of simply around the edge of it, as is the case with ordinary headgear.

Of course, these helmets will not protect against high velocity projectiles. However, as they do protect the wearer from low velocity projectiles, and as weapons are, because of infection, often as fatal as severe wounds, it can easily be seen how much good has been accomplished.

A French writer in La Nature shows that 323 out of 479 abdominal wounds were caused by shrapnel and pieces of shell having a low velocity.

In thirteen out of fifteen cases of lung wounds, the projectile did not have velocity enough to completely traverse the body and come out.

In seventy-one cases of joint wounds, sixty-six were due to low velocity shrapnel and only five to high velocity bullets. Practically every one of these wounds could have been prevented by breast and body plates and knee and elbow caps of armor.

As for every man who afterwards dies of a wound made by a high velocity bullet there are about ten who die from wounds made by low velocity shrapnel and shell fragments, the importance is seen of protection against low velocity wounds if it can be had.

The wearing of armor means the lessening of the mobility of the soldier. In the open field, lessening of mobility means a decrease in efficiency which cannot be tolerated. However, in trench warfare the mobility of the individual does not count for so much, as every soldier in the field must be sustained to go far, and generally does it at his own artillery.

Volunteer soldiers in 1776 did bring about a successful revolution," he said, "but they succeeded only after years of struggle when they received the assistance of the trained soldiers of France."

"Likewise, volunteer service was a failure in 1812. The trained soldiers of Great Britain whipped us, invaded our capital, and burned our buildings. In the civil war the rebellion was put down only after conscription had been resorted to."

The conscription plan met with general applause from those present at the meeting.

THE CONGRESSIONAL ALIENMENT. Chicago, April 17.—(Editor of The Tribune.)—A microcosm organization boasting the name tyrannosaurus gambianus produced in the human body a condition in which the military affairs committee, presents an unmistakable analogue. Apathy, stupidity, dullness, imperfect orientation, are the prodromes of emaciation and death from jugulation follow.

The president asked for the support of congress in passing a conscription measure which has been obstructed by this committee. A body in its condition is not capable of proper functioning and immediate measures should be instituted to eradicate the evil before the nation is inoculated with the germ.

INSANITARY CONDITIONS OR—

DERIVED REMEDIED.

Chicago, April 12.—(To the Friend of the People.)—Will you please use your influence toward securing a betterment of the miserable sanitary conditions at 1128 West Adams street? This is a three story rooming house with a bathroom on the top floor and a dilapidated bowl in a 3x3 closet on the first floor. The furnace apartment on the top floor having given out, the landlord decided it was cheaper to lock the room than have it repaired. When the bowl downstairs is stopped up with garbage there are no toilet facilities left.

READER. An investigation was made by an inspector from this department and a notice served on the owner to clean and paint or lime wash walls and ceilings of water closet compartments on the first and third floors; to clean and repair floor of water closet compartment on third floor, and to repair the leaking supply pipe on the first floor.

JOHN DILL ROBERTSON, Commissioner of Health.

LAMP WILL BE INSTALLED.

Chicago, April 12.—(To the Friend of the People.)—Can a lamp be installed at the corner of Monticello and Cornelia streets? There are no electric lamps in this neighborhood, but a common gas lamp will do for the present. J. T. O.

Work which is now in progress in the northwest district will provide for a street lamp at the location.

WILLIAM G. KEITH, Commissioner of Electricity.

ONE OF 29,300 PUBLIC EMPLOYEES WILL AID GARDENS

City, County, and Municipalities Have Acreage but Few Men.

There are, in round numbers, 29,300 employees on the pay rolls of the city of Chicago, Cook county, the park board, and the sanitary district.

Representative spokesmen for the various municipalities were asked yesterday what percentage of the men could be turned over to the agricultural work in the emergency.

They all replied: "None!"

Mitchell Will Help.

Superintendent of Streets Felix S. Mitchell was the only one who was ready to help plow up the vacant lots. He said he was short of teams and laborers, but in a pinch could switch some of the teams to the agricultural work if some one would furnish the labor.

The street department, he said, has 100 teams working now. They are used for plowing, grading, and other work. It is more important that some of the street work be ready to recommence as the city council that it release some of his teams for the common use.

The investigation developed the fact that there are thousands of acres of vacant land in and around Chicago, and that many of these are owned by the various local municipalities.

3,235 Acres Available.

The sanitary district is the largest owner of vacant lands, having 3,235 acres ready for use. Of this 2,325 acres are along the main channel, 625 acres on the line of the Calumet canal and 285 acres on the north branch.

The trustees already have taken this land up and are ready to cooperate with individuals or organizations interested in turning these acres into producing fields.

These Patrick J. Carr, chairman of the committee on real estate, has made out a scheme whereby small parcels, mostly in acre tracts, may be sold over immediately to farmers and then along the channel. Any one interested, he said, should get in touch with him at once.

Lincoln Park Has Land.

The Lincoln park board has fifteen acres available. President Nelson Latham will inspect the property tomorrow to determine what steps can be taken to place it under cultivation. It is possible, he thought, the Lincoln park and its laborers can be turned over to the work.

The tract known as "Picnic Island," 100 acres of land, running north from Lincoln avenue.

The park board has 100 acres on the site of the new park extension in Austin. It is now being sold and the sewage and water mains are put in.

The south park people say they haven't a lot of ground that could be used.

SUPREME COURT WALLOP AT RUM PLEASES MAYOR

Mayor Thompson and his cabinet were elated yesterday when news reached Chicago that the Supreme court had upheld the administration's Sunday closing policy.

"It was a big victory for the city," said Corporation Counsel Eitelson. "For one thing, it will make it easier to keep the lid clamped on tight. The court not only upholds the Sunday closing law with regard to the sale of drinks but it also holds that saloons cannot stay open for the sale of nonintoxicants."

The Supreme court handed down its decision in the case of Henry Boerner against the mayor and chief of police of Chicago.

The court ruled that the law applied to all places where liquor is sold. Corporation Counsel Eitelson, who arrived from Springfield last night, declined to commit himself as to what opinion he will give on the proposal to close all the saloons during the war.

The following communication was received by The Tribune last night: "Dubuque, Ia., April 18.—(Editor of The Tribune.)—Endeavoring to put into effect the request of Secretary Redfield to increase food supply, we are allowing all male employees four half days during the next two weeks, closing our plant at 5 daily and supplying all employees volunteering for agricultural work with a good grade 32 wheel cultivator at the nominal price of $1. The plan is being received enthusiastically and we hope to do our bit to increase the food supply. Can you not urge thousands of other employers to do the same? THE H. B. GLOVER COMPANY."

allies have taken more than 31,000 prisoners and the British alone have accounted for 228 guns, field pieces, and cannon. Machine guns have been seized at the rate of about one to every fifty German prisoners.

Highly important as have been the results of the last fortnight, it is believed to be merely the prelude to a greater struggle and that events are rapidly leading up to a decisive conflict into which the allies and Germany will hurl all their strength.

Germans Must Show Hand.
The time has come for Von Hindenburg to put his cards on the table and prove whether or not he is merely bluffing, say observers here.

His mouthpieces, Maj. Morant and Count von Reventlow, show by their frantic appeals to the people to support him that there is something like unrest and fear in Germany over the military situation.

The publication of the daily list of submarine sinkings is no longer counterbalancing the defeats Germany has been suffering on land in the minds of the German people.

Moreover, it is fundamental German strategy to use the attack as the best means of defense. With a few exceptions, Von Hindenburg has been con-

No Relaxing of Pressure.
(By the Associated Press.)

GRAND HEADQUARTERS OF THE FRENCH ARMY, ON THE FRENCH FRONT, April 19.—The French success today in the forward movement was much more considerable than indicated by the published reports or the army communiques, which narrate a sober tale of the events. There is no intention of relaxing the pressure on the Germans, who are opposing with a tenacious resistance but without avail.

Besides points of formidable strength and most important strategic value, such as Oestel, Courcoen, and Vally, which have fallen before the French assaults, reports sent by runners from reconnoitering parties indicate steady progress everywhere and large captures of material.

The staffs take no risks; everything is methodically prepared in order to be as certain as is humanly possible of success before trying to approach each objective point.

Today's weather was better for the operations, but it was so misty that airplanes were almost useless.

Germans Fall Into Traps.
The commanders of the German reinforcements hurrying to the front, appear to have lost their heads or have been badly directed. One division marched directly into wire entanglements and was almost annihilated or taken prisoner.

Eighteen new German divisions have been thrown into the front since Monday, several of which were blown virtually to pieces by the French artillery.

Two divisions, launched directly into an ineffectual counter attack before Juvincourt, suffered in this way.
Owing to the extent of the battle line the Germans are no longer so much favored by maneuvering on the inside line circle. The French soldier's confidence and spirit have been even intensified under the most severe hardships during the advance. Nothing seems to depress him. Even the old territorialists, road making on the heels of the attacking troops, maintain a constant cheerfulness.

Germans Admit Big Defeat.
BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, via London, April 19.—A German officer captured Tuesday frankly stated that the Germans regard the loss of Vimy ridge as the biggest defeat they have suffered since the war began. This officer said he could not understand how any troops could fail to hold it. In his opinion the garrison must have been demoralized before the British attack began.

The latter statement is thought to be true, for other captured Germans have testified to demoralization in their ranks after several days of the British intensive artillery fire.

The newly called up troops admit that the fire bewildered them.
Prisoners taken during the last three days tell of the spread of discontent in the German army because of reduced rations since April 12. The man formerly received a half loaf of bread daily. Now he has only one-third of a loaf.

This reduction, coming after the Somme retreat, the defeat at Arras, and the beginning of the great French offensive, has caused much grumbling among the troops.

Reason for Retreat.
COPENHAGEN, via London, April 19.—In an article in the Berlin Vossische Zeitung Capt. Salzmann, military correspondent of the newspaper, says of the fighting on the west front:

"As long as the entente allies have superiority in war materials, Field Marshal von Hindenburg's strategy is the only remedy, namely, the speedy evacuation of any front lines. Against superiority in materials no heroism can avail."

Y. M. C. A. RAISES $28,106 IN DAY, SETTING RECORD

All records of the Y. M. C. A. were broken yesterday when it was reported at the noon meeting in the Hotel Sherman that $28,106.30 had been raised in twenty-four hours, making the total amount for Chicago to date $131,508.80 of the $200,000 needed.

President W. F. Hayes of the Chicago Y. M. C. A. received a check for $10,000. "This check coming from Mr. McCormick is wonderful," said Mr. Hayes, "because he has donated for all of the Y. M. C. A. work in Europe, and whenever we have asked him he has been most generous."

Six committees did not report, as they were attending another meeting. Al M. Schoyer of the Pennsylvania road, vice president of the Chicago branch, presided at the Hotel Sherman meeting.

More than $3,000 towards the $40,000 fund to be raised by the Evanston Y. M. C. A. for work in military camps was pledged at a mass meeting held last night in Patten gymnasium, Evanston.

Women! Keep This On Dresser!
Never Let Corns Ache Twice

Instantly! Few drops stop corn-soreness, then corns and calluses shrivel, loosen and lift out with fingers—No pain!

The world owes thanks to the genius in Cincinnati who discovered freezone, the new ether drug. Tiny bottles of the magic fluid can now be had at any drug store for a few cents. You simply apply a few drops of this freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a hardened callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose and shriveled that you lift it off with the fingers. Not a bit of pain or soreness is felt when applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the skin or flesh.

For a few cents one can now get rid of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, as well as painful calluses on bottom of feet. Everyone who tries freezone becomes an enthusiast because it really doesn't hurt or pain one particle. Try it and see.

Genuine "Freezone" bears name, Edward Wesley Co., Cincinnati, O.

Nujol For Constipation

INERTIA

This, coupled with the pill and laxative habit, is the chief reason why women suffer even more than men from constipation and intestinal stasis.

Laxatives and cathartics are without exception irritants which whip the bowels into action and over-stimulate the intestinal nerve-centers. Physicians recognize that their habitual use brings serious consequences, such as appendicitis, intestinal toxemia and chronic constipation.

Hence physicians nowadays avoid the drug remedies. Nujol, an intestinal lubricant, is a far safer and more effective means of relieving constipation. It keeps the intestinal contents soft, soothes and lubricates the irritated mucous membranes and helps to restore normal bowel activity. Unlike drugs or physics Nujol is not absorbed by the system, and does not form a habit.

As Nujol is not a physic but a lubricant, it does not gripe or upset the system. Being tasteless, it is not unpleasant to take.

The Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) has used its world-wide resources in producing Nujol and its reputation is behind the product.

Nujol is the only remedy for constipation we manufacture. The genuine sold only in pint bottles bearing Nujol trade-mark. All bottles filled at our Nujol plant, absolutely modern and sanitary.

Write today for an instructive booklet on Nujol and its use.

The pains in each of the above ailments are so near alike that even our best physicians often mistake the broken arch pains for rheumatic pains and prescribe accordingly. The medicine given, of course, has no effect and the patient often suffers for years before he realizes that possibly the trouble is with the arch nerves and muscles. I have seen thousands of such cases in my 32 years of experience.

If you suffer with pains in the back or back, come in and let me examine your arches. It may save you years of suffering. If your arches are broken I can fit you with a pair of Larson's Anatomic Sta-Right Shoes that will relieve your trouble and return you to health.

NEW I. O. U. ISSUE
TO FINANCE U. S.
TILL YEAR ENDSTemporary Certificates for $200,000,000, Is Plan of McAdoo.

Washington, D. C., April 19.—A program of temporary financing to meet the government's running expenses between now and the close of the fiscal year, June 30, was taken up today by Secretary McAdoo with the cooperation of the federal reserve board. Contemplated measures are the issuance of from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000 in temporary certificates of indebtedness to be redeemed July 1, when the great bulk of the income tax and other revenues due the government for the current fiscal year will be in hand, and the attachment to the temporary certificates of a conversion privilege permitting the holders to convert the certificates into bonds or later certificates, bearing a higher interest rate and authorized under the $7,000,000,000 war finance measure.

Federal reserve banks will handle the issue of temporary certificates, but will not subscribe to them. The reserve banks already hold $60,000,000 of certificates issued April 1, maturing July 1, and bearing interest at the rate of 3 per cent a year.

The issue probably will be taken wholly by financial institutions. It is unrelated to the war finance bill authorizing the issue of $7,000,000,000 in bonds and certificates, and the proceeds will be used to meet ordinary and emergency calls upon the treasury while the government is collecting the bulk of its annual revenue for the current year.

Notice

Any person who has been thinking about looking into the "Handy Volume" Issue of The Encyclopaedia Britannica is hereby advised that he must HURRY UP and send for our descriptive, illustrated book or he will be too late to get one of the few remaining sets.

Our stock of Britannica sets, printed on genuine India paper, is growing less so rapidly that after Wednesday, April 25th, there will not be time enough for any one to write us, get the book describing the Britannica, read it and decide about buying before the last set is sold.

We do not want any one to buy the Britannica unless he knows it will prove useful to him in his everyday life—his work, his business, in improving his mental equipment and his place in the world.

THE FAIR

State, Adams & Dearborn Sts.

If for any reason you are unable to go and see a complete set of the Britannica, you should write us for full information AT ONCE.

The end of the sale of this great work in its handiest form is almost here. We can almost put a finger on that date now.

You can judge the closeness of this date for yourself when we say, No more descriptive booklets will be sent out after Wednesday, April 25th, because by then there will be so few sets of the Britannica left that the last set will be sold before anyone can get the Britannica literature, study it, make up his mind about buying and get his order back to us.

THEREFORE, STRIKE NOW

See the Britannica or write for information today.

If the publishers could get enough of this wonderful genuine India paper, that makes each volume of the "Handy Volume" Britannica only one inch thick, we could easily sell many thousands more sets. But they cannot get any more. No more India paper can be made because the war has made it impossible to get any more of two necessary raw materials—flax from Belgium, Germany or Ireland and hemp from Russia.

If you are at all interested in owning this great library of facts, be advised NOW and send in the coupon for full information. You have only just enough time to get and read this literature and make up your mind. Strike Now. Sign and send the coupon today.

Remember that you have the use of the books while paying for them. You only have to send $1.00 with the order and $3.00 a month (for the cloth binding) for a limited number of months.

A Notable Exhibition and Sale of

Hats
of White Milan

Trimmed, Untrimmed, Ready-to-Wear

Months ago we foresaw the vogue of Milan Straw for summer millinery. So confident were we that Milan Straws would be the proper item that we anticipated the demand, making certain contracts with hat manufacturers, thereby gaining selected quality and concession in prices as well.

Since this early purchase, Fashion has emphatically decreed that Milan Straw shall be ultra modish.

These straws are all foreign bleached, which insures a more perfect and permanent white—many of these qualities can no longer be duplicated.

Trimmed Milans Trimmed with white wings, white fancy feathers, white ribbons and flowers, some trimmed with bright shades of red, green and blue, some in black; large and small shapes fine quality China Milan and excellent grades of Italian Milan and some of the finest English Milan. Prices range at $30, $25, $20, $18, $15, $10 and as low as $5.

Ready-to-Wear Milans Our collection of ready-to-wear simply trimmed Milan hats is very wonderful—you may select from dozens of styles in real Italian Milan in a variety of shapes, large, medium and small, at prices ranging from $10, $8.75, $7.50 and $6.95, and in China Milan as low as $5.00.

Untrimmed Milans The assortment of untrimmed hats displayed in Milan straw we fully believe is the most extensive ever shown. The styles are so numerous and the range of prices so wide that it is just reasonable to have one to how fine a grade of straw one desires. Prices are $20, $18, $15, $12, $10 and as low as $9.95.

Special Transparent or screen edges on Milan hats are very stylish. At an additional cost of $3.00 we will furnish material and face with four thicknesses of French crepe and finish with extension transparent edge any Milan hat purchased here. We will also face any Milan hat with black Lyons velvet at $2.00, or colored Lyons velvet at $3.00. All hand work done by our own expert milliners.

The Highest Priced Hat Illustrated Is $8.75.

LEONARD PUTS MITCHELL OUT IN THE SEVENTH

Referee Ends Battle with Loser Helpless—Draws $25,000 House.

"Tribune" Decisions

Decisions of "Tribune" fight representatives are:

At Milwaukee—Benny Leonard knocked out Richie Mitchell (7); Billy East knocked out Billy Sweeney (3); Matty McCue knocked out Jabber Young (4); Steve Chernish knocked out Jack Hughes (2).

At Cleveland—Johnny Kilbane beat Matt Bruck (10).

At New York—Charlie White beat Walter Mohr (10).

At Helena, Ark.—Arlos Fanning stopped Jack Reed (10).

At Rock Island—Earl Henderson beat Joe Swain (10).

BY RAY PEARSON.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 19.—(Special.)—Hooking left with lightning-like speed and swinging terrific right crosses to the jaw, Benny Leonard of New York destroyed all the hopes of Richie Mitchell, pride of Milwaukee, of becoming a champion by practically knocking him out in the seventh round tonight.

With Mitchell's hands gripping the ropes, one knee on the floor, and utterly helpless, Referee George Duffy stopped Mitchell from further punishment by calling a halt and sending Leonard to his corner a winner. That was the finish of one of the greatest bouts ever seen in a Wisconsin ring.

Down Three Times in Seventh. The beginning of the end for the Brewery city star was shortly after the start of the seventh, when Leonard, evidently intent on a knockout, forced Mitchell half way across the ring to the rope and during a mixup on the hemp shot a terrific right cross to the jaw. The blow sent Mitchell sprawling on the canvas and he was nearly senseless. At the count of six he got on his knees and at nine, wabbly but game, he regained his feet.

His eyes were glassy and rolling, but he made an effort to get up. He scattered thoughts on covering up. He whipped his arms around his jaws and Leonard, seeing his move, quickly shot a hard left hook to the body. Down came Mitchell's guard, and the instant it fell the easterner tore loose with a relentless fire of lefts and rights to the head. The furious attack rocked Mitchell from head to toe, he slipped to one side, then got up, but a Leonard right to the jaw sent him crashing into the ropes and to defeat.

Richie Almost Out in Second. There is only one term that tells adequately why Leonard beat Mitchell, and that term is class. Mitchell, acknowledged one of the best lightweights in the business, failed to match his speed with that of Leonard. In his dressing room after the bout Mitchell admitted Leonard's superiority and at the same time stated that he was nearly knocked out in the second round, when the easterner shot a right cross to the chin. Richie didn't take the count then, but covered and stalled the round out.

Leonard Leads at Start. Leonard and Mitchell were evenly matched in weight when they got on the scales at 3 o'clock, Leonard notching 133½ pounds and Mitchell 133½. Leonard started hostilities with a left hook to the head in the opening session. He surprised Ritchie by beating him to it with left jabs, slipping over three without return. Mitchell finally opened up the speed notch in the last minute and made it an even round by slipping.

SIDNEY SMITH

FIGHT!

John L. Sullivan Would Stop Boxing Shows During the War.

New York, April 19.—(Special.)—My idea of a fighting man is a fellow who is willing to fight," said John L. Sullivan today, "and for the life of me I cannot see how a chap who pretends to be a fighting man and is on the level will duck the chance to get into the biggest fight the world has ever known by refusing to enlist to fight for Uncle Sam. That's my idea of a fighting man. If I had my way every boxing club in this and every other state would close its doors until the war is over."

In a left jab and a couple of right uppercuts to the jaw.

What Leonard did to the Milwaukee idol in the second round was something awful. He slipped in with left and right and toppled Ritchie to one knee with a right cross. Mitchell was forced to use defensive tactics to save himself. But he was felled and took considerable punishment before recovering sufficiently to do anything in a way of attack.

Benny Wins Fourth Round.

Leonard's generalship stood out strongly in the third. After being out-pointed in the first half of the round he came back with left jabs and more than evened up the score, but no real damage was done. Leonard, using his lightning-like left, increased his margin by a slight shade in the fourth. Mitchell made a rally near the finish but could not even it up.

Not until the fifth round was Mitchell able to show to advantage, and this was his round by a good margin. He took the aggressive away from Benny and in one mixup in the center of the ring put left, right and left to the head, the only damaging punches of the session.

Leonard started to make Mitchell mis with his punches in the sixth, and Benny won the round by jabbing. Then came the seventh and the finish of the Milwaukee idol.

Battle Draws $25,000 House. It was a swell crowd that flocked into the Auditorium for tonight's show, but it didn't come up to the advance dope, it being estimated that the house was worth somewhere around $25,000.

A feature not billed in advance was put on just before the windup when a small band of Wisconsin militia marched to the ring and their commander made an appeal for recruits for the army, calling attention to the fact that the Badger state has not enlisted the men needed from this state.

Charley White Defeats Mohr in New York Bout

New York, April 19.—Charley White, Chicago lightweight, outboxed Walter Mohr of Brooklyn in a ten round bout. White felled Mohr in the seventh round. In only one round did Mohr show to advantage. Each man weighed 138 pounds.

U. S. G. A. TO FOLLOW WEST'S LEAD IN GOLF AND LENGTHEN PARS

BY JOE DAVIS.

A victory for western ideas is seen in the adoption by the United States Golf association of a new table for computing par. Early this year Crafts W. Higgins, assistant secretary of the Western Golf association, advocated the lengthening of the par distances because of the extra distance obtainable with the balls of recent manufacture.

In keeping with this suggestion the national body announces its measurements will be:

Up to 250 yards and inclusive par is 3; from 250 to 450 yards, 4; from 450 to 600 yards, 5; from 600 yards upwards, 6. The previous distances were 225, 226 to 425, 430 to 600 yards and upwards.

The Western Golf association already had planned to make the change and will adopt the new U. S. G. A. figures.

Village Can't Tax Golf Club.

The appeal taken by the village of Forest Park against a permanent injunction granted by Judge Baldwin which prevented the village from enforcing golf clubs to pay a license fee of $700 has been defeated. The Harlem Golf club is the only club in the village, and when the village board sought to impose its tax Mrs. Mary Condon, executrix of the late John Condon, fought the matter in the Circuit court, Judge Baldwin granting the injunction.

The Supreme court in its decision supports the decision in the Circuit court, holding the ordinance invalid.

Pro-Golf Meeting Monday.

The Professional Golfers' association will hold a meeting at the Great Northern hotel Monday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. George Potheringham, chairman of the Interstate section, will tell of plans for the coming season. Potheringham came from New York last week and has been in touch with the eastern players all winter. Golfers not members of the local association are invited to attend.

C. S. Marten, formerly assistant professional at Glen Oak, will go to Escanaba this summer, and Jim Duncan, brother of George Duncan, will be at the new Delavan Lake Golf club.

Boxer Luke Ginley Dies After Knockout in Fight

Cleveland, O., April 19.—Luke Ginley, who was knocked out in the eighth round of his ten round bout with Jimmie Berry tonight, died tonight in a hospital from a fractured skull. The bout was a preliminary to the Kilbane-Brook bout. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Berry on the charge of manslaughter.

In the Wake of the News RING W. LARDNER

THE JOURNALIST.

PART I. THE LAYMAN'S IDEA. JOHN BROWN, of the Daily Times staff, finished his breakfast of bacon and eggs, toast, and coffee, which had been furnished him gratis by a large mail order house as a reward for having mentioned its name in one of his stories; finished reading his free copy of the morning paper, and rang for the car that the Whiz Motor company had sent him for his personal use as long as he wanted it.

As the weather was threatening, he donned his new English raincoat, the gift of Dapper and Dapper. He was soon being whirled through the Koon spring air to the Times office. At the corner of Jackson and Clark, his borrowed chauffeur disregarded the traffic policeman's signal. A mounted cop followed the car and ordered it to stop. "Here!" said John Brown. "I'm in a hurry."

"If you really are," replied Cavanaugh, "you might fix me up for tonight at the Illinois."

"How many?" asked Brown. "I'm taking twenty friends," said Cavanaugh.

"I'll see what I've got," said John Brown, and rummaged in his desk for his pass book. "Oh, yes, that's easy," said he. "I have the first three rows in the parquet and all the boxes."

"By George," said Brown, at five o'clock. "I need a change. I believe I'll run down to New York for a day. He summoned a boy. "Get me Stateroom A, Car 2 on the 5:30 East," he said.

The boy hurried to a telephone and soon returned. "Theodore Roosevelt had reserved that space," he said, "but the Pullman Company will give it to you and fix him with an upper."

An hour later, the conductors on the Limited stopped at Brown's table in the diner.

"All tickets, please," said they. "Brown pulled back his coat lapel and showed his police badge.

"Beg your pardon, sir," said the two humbly, and went on about their business.

(Part 2—"The Bitter Truth"—will appear in an early issue.)

U. S. WAR DEPARTMENT O. K.'S CONTINUATION OF WESTERN TENNIS

The Western Lawn Tennis association will play out its schedule of tournaments this summer with the full approval and at the suggestion of the United States war department. The directors of the western body met at the City club and went over correspondence with the government authorities which advised continuation of the sport.

President George T. Ade of the U. S. N. L. T. A. had volunteered to lead the national tennis organization in any action that Washington saw fit, even to canceling all tournaments if that step was deemed necessary to assist greater concentration in military affairs. In return he was assured the war department preferred to have the tournaments run off as listed until their cancellation was required.

Three Athletes Leave to Drill for Army Jobs

A trio of young Chicago athletes left yesterday for a special course at St. John's Military academy, Delaford, Wis., after which they will take examinations for commissions in Uncle Sam's service. Two of the boys are stars of the Hamilton club swimming team. The other is Archie Wallen, who retired from local track athletics three years ago with the record of being the best all around track and field athlete in the history of Lewis institute. The Hamilton club boys are W. L. (Bud) Wallen, champion distance swimmer, a brother of the ex-Lewis athlete, and Wesley Combs, short distance swimmer.

WOODS AND WATERS

HINTS ON QUARRY FISHING.

JUST a few miles to the south of Chicago is a belt of quarries, or rather what were once quarries, that contain some very large black bass—planted there some years ago by the state fish commissioners—but we refuse to state how big these bass really are for fear we will be called a regular fish story teller.

These bass are not only large but they are very, very wise. That they are large proves it, for they certainly are fished for enough. Some of our readers have asked us how to go about landing some of these big fellows, and here is how we have done it.

In the first place, you are at a disadvantage, as the fish are in clear water, and when you stand on the brink above them you look as big as a red barn in a fog. So the first rule to observe is never to fish from the edge of a quarry, or any other piece of water for that matter, with the sun or moon behind you. If you do your shadow will warn the fish.

The biggest string of bass we have seen caught in a quarry was taken at night on a luminous casting plug, a strip of pork and a fairly large white enameled spoon is another good night bait, while a frog is good night and day, and the same can be said of a large minnow. Approach the quarry quietly, don't raise your rod, but slide cast from the hip; if you get a rise and miss, wait a while; also wait after you have taken a fish. Try a variety of lures, and, above all, don't make any more noise nor any more move than are necessary. Better fish the quarries alone or with a single companion—a party is bound to be noisy.

KENNEDY TAKES MARATHON RACE HATCH SECOND

Boston, Mass., April 19.—A well haired bricklayer, William J. Kennedy of New York, formerly of Chicago, won the annual American marathon race of almost twenty-five miles, running a field of fifty runners, and Sidney H. Hatch of Chicago, known as the "man of a hundred marathons," finished second, with Clarence H. Mar in third, Hannes Kolehmainen of Finland in fourth, and William J. Kennedy in fifth.

Others who finished in the first ten were: A. F. Merchant, Boston, 2:38:40; Charles L. Miller, Chicago, 2:38:44; Hans Schuster, New York, 2:39:14; Carl W. A. Linder, Quincy, 2:39:24; J. Lynch, Washington, and William J. Dean of Rochester, N. Y., 2:40:00; Hjalmar Dahlberg of Chicago finished in forty-second place.

The time was comparatively slow, Kennedy's winning figure of 2:38:40 being more than 20 minutes slower than record. Hatch finished 1:41:44, Kennedy, De Mar in 2:31:00, and Kolehmainen in 2:31:28.

AT THE BILLIARD ROOM. Bert Treddick kept close on the heels of Charlie Morin in the Chicago billiard race by defeating Jim Shaw 5 to 4, in a match at Conklin's room.

Perry and Mack (40) defeated Thomas and Donald (40) 5 to 3, and went into a tie for first prize in the team tournament at Morin's. The tie will be played off tonight.

Roney (105) defeated Hatch (120), 10 to 43. Broderick and Bert fought.

THREE CUSHION LEAGUE. At Pittsburgh—R. Cannell, 50; O. Hall, 48; forty-nine innings.

At Indianapolis—A. Kieckhefer, 50; E. C. Er, 33, eighty-two innings.

"Our Passengers Are Our Gods"

FASHION'S
BLUE BOX

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special correspondence.]—When Miss Alice Carpenter, chairman of the Women's Fashionable Alliance, comes around this fashion lady today does not have her fingers crossed. For Miss Carpenter wants the French couturiers to send us sensible styles and this lady has taken to herself a few radical features. In the first place, the side panels of the skirt of this frock of navy blue and white are tucked under so as to switch on the Algerian effect and so, moreover, as to produce that unevenness of hem which is a feature of this year's modes. Apparently a sweet disorder in the hem is the object of every designer's scissors.

Real Love Stories

United by Deception.
OUT on a Chicago street is a little shop conducted by two sweet old ladies who live in the rear of the store.

Any person who knows them and their story will listen with interest when they talk of their "children" who are away at school.

Ten years ago Mary, with the blue eyes, had come to America with her two little ones in search of the husband and father who five years before had left Ireland and come to the new country to seek his fortune and send for them later.

This promise he never fulfilled. Always writing of hard luck, sickness, and losses and change of jobs from time to time.

At last the little wife, getting enough money together to pay her passage, determined to surprise her husband by going to him.

Upon landing here and being bewildered with the strange noisiness of it all, she solicited the help of an officer to locate her husband. She had the addresses of places where he had worked (her mail had always been addressed to his place of employment) and they found his home through this means, only to find that he was married and keeping house in a nice cozy flat.

His supposed wife was a good woman who thought herself really married, but when she found out the truth she turned against the man and took the wronged wife and babies into her home and cared for them.

Both women refused to prosecute him and he went his way again in about two years from then was killed in an accident.

The two women became true friends, remained together, and raised the children, and it is hard to tell which of the children (now almost grown) love the most or which love them the most, the real mother or the foster mother.

It is really a pleasure to go into their little store and hear them talk of their love and plans for the young people, upon whom all their lives are centered.

K.

The Tribune will pay $5 for every real love story published. If you know one, submit it, and write no more than 500 words. Address Doris Blake, The Tribune, Chicago. No manuscript returned. If you have a perplexing love affair upon which you need the counsel of a friend, write Doris Blake. Send stamped, addressed envelope if you wish personal reply.

Need a Little Gray Matter.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a young man of 21 and considered stylish looking. Nevertheless I find it impossible to find a nice girl. I have tried several, but none seem to suit my fancy. Please advise me, as I am in distress. "H. R."

Perhaps your taste is too stylish. There are so many nice girls floating about these days that it does not strike me as if it would be difficult to find one. Of course, nice girls manifest upon nice young men for friends and a stylish look alone will not serve as a recommendation. There must be character and a certain amount of gray matter in a man's makeup to attract a nice girl.

CLEAN YOUR FURNITURE OFTEN

That is, if you want to preserve the beauty of its fine varnished and lacquered surfaces.

Some folks never think of cleaning their furniture—even the fine pieces—except at the time of general housecleaning in spring and fall. And this neglect is the reason why its beauty often rapidly fades. Dirt—especially "invisible dirt"—is the worst enemy of fine varnish. It gets into the finish and destroys its life.

Get rid of it, quickly and easily, with Tobey Polish, made from the old secret shop formula of The Tobey Furniture Company (Chicago and New York). It is a perfect cleanser; requires no hard rubbing; wipes off dry. Nourishes the finish; maintains its full body and color.

Your dealer will supply you. Bottles, 25c and 50c; quarts, $1. This mark on every package—

HASTY ACTION IN CITY COUNCIL HIT BY SLATEMAKERS

Adopt New Amendment on Rules—Make Up Three Committees.

BY PARKE BROWN.
St. Augustine, Fla., April 19.—(Special.)—Hasty action by the Chicago city council will be reduced to a minimum by an amendment to its rules adopted today by its committee on committees.

The council provision now in force requires a two-thirds vote—forty-seven of the seventy members—to pass a resolution or ordinance in the face of a call for its reference to a committee. The proposed rules amendment requires the vote of four-fifths of the aldermen elected, or a total of fifty-six.

Three Resolutions Completed. The slate makers also completed the roster of three more committees, those on schools, buildings, and railway terminals.

The chief surprise was the appearance of the name of Matt Fenn of the Twentieth ward as chairman of schools. He has shown no startling interest in school matters.

Men on Three Committees.

The make-up of the three new committees are:
Schools—Fenn, Hitt, Kimball, Klaus, Krumholz, Horne, Touhy, Steffen, Kennedy, Adamowski, Byrne, O'Toole, Long, Pagram, and Clark.
Buildings—Fenn, Anderson, McDonough, Johnson, Woodhull, Klaus, Ahern, Kaindl, Symkowski, Adamkiewicz, Powers, Fick, Link, Adamowski, and Pagram.
The slate makers say they will start home tomorrow.

Trial Committee of Board Hears Defense of Teacher.

The fate of Oscar M. Heath, teacher in the Englewood High school, charged with writing and circulating literature "seditious if not treasonable," is in the hands of three members of the board of education.

These members, who constitute the trial committee of the board, refuse to divulge the decision on Mr. Heath, but it is understood the committee, which met in executive session, recommended his discharge. The committee report will be given to the board next Wednesday.

Denies Teaching His View.

Mr. Heath appeared for trial with Attorney William J. Lindsay. He admitted writing and having printed the pamphlet which President Jacob M. Loebe said he considered treasonable. Heath's defense was based on his record as a teacher and his statement that he had not distributed the pamphlet among the school children or taught any of the principles advocated in it to his students.

Attorney Chauncey Miller handled the case for the board of education.

"Where were the pamphlets circulated?" asked Mr. Miller.

Government Took Them.

"The government took most of them," said Mr. Heath.

"Did you have any conversation with the federal officials?"

"They told me to keep quiet," was the reply.

"Having reference to this document?"

"Having reference to the future."

Government secret service agents were present but took no part in the hearing. John W. Bokhart presided. The other members of the trial committee were Mrs. C. O. Seltman and Ernest J. Krueger.

BIG BAKERIE CLOSE ON BREAD TO OWNERS SAY WANTS OF DRIVE BRING CLOSED
BY HENRY M.
There is grave danger that the great wholesale bakeries of Chicago, at least, the largest of which employ about 1,000,000 loaves will be closed down on the day that danger is not that danger is not without their usual thousands of families to depend on the kitchen staff of life.
To cut off suddenly the bread supply for a city—particularly with the entering of a war—is a highly taken.
It is forced—say the bakers' demands for wages by bakery workers, coming on top of 100 per cent in the and practically all the materials which go into a loaf.
The committee of bakers, headed by J. J. Ward, baking company, of the Schulze Baking ward Hotel of Heister L. Livingstone of the Baking company, M. E. Carl Sulzer, Inc., and of the Grant Baking of the bakers' reached a point where profits have been cut of the demanded increase simply leave them to close down their shops business at a loss.
May Close Bakers have decided that bakeries is the only thing. There are about 600 employed by the wholesaler.
The wage scale under the new wage—say the May 1—calls for a flat week, plus a commission on all sales of bread more than $200 a week—say the employers route, on $150 of wages a 7 per cent average earnings of the drivers is therefore $31 of them, with long high as $35 a week. The six to ten hours a day, these present earnings to employers to be for similar work any United States. They are more than the men worth or can earn in any week.
Owing to the fact that other ingredients of a loaf have risen 100 per cent the last year, the baker's home has fallen of the bread has increased the drivers—the increase at from 17 to 30 p.
Demand Flat I
They now demand a 10 per cent increase in a week, making the weekly sales in excess of the present rate, would wage of $35.00 a week.
Only one meeting has been the committee of the union officials, I. Wagner, its president. The demands of the men are refused by the employers may they are w.
During the last year the smaller loaves of bread to be sold have risen from 5 to 6 cents, and some sizes have been cut down.
In some cities further a loaf cost already have been suggested that as a present labor dispute similar may be made in Chicago, it is probable that, whatever the present controversy in the retail price of bread during the next month.

BAKERIES MAY CLOSE ON MAY 1; DREAD TO GOUP?

Owners Say Wage Demands of Drivers May Bring Closed Doors.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

There is grave danger that the great wholesale bakeries of Chicago, the largest of them, producing about 1,000,000 loaves of bread a day, will be closed down on May 1.

It is feared that not averted thousands of small storekeepers will be without their usual supply of bread for the retail consumer and tens of thousands of families will be forced to depend on the kitchen stove for the bread of life.

The bread supply for a city of 2,500,000, particularly with the country just entering a war—is not a step to be lightly taken.

Forced by Drivers' Demands. It is feared—say the big bakers—by the demands for an increase of wages by bakery wagon drivers and haulers, coming on top of an increase of 100 per cent in the cost of flour and practically all the other raw materials which go into the making of bread.

The committee of the employing bakers headed by John Hines of the Hines Baking company, A. W. Davis of the Schulze Baking company, Edward Heiser of Heiser & Junge, M. J. Livingston of the Livingston Baking company, M. Hutchinson of the Baker Bros. company, and J. R. Grant of the Grant Baking company, declare that the baking industry has reached a point where all margin of profit has been cut out. To grant the demands for an increase in wages will mean the choice between leaving down their shops or doing business at a loss.

May Close Bakeries. They have decided that to close their shops is the only thing they can do. There are about 600 wagon drivers employed by the wholesale bakeries in Chicago.

The wage scale under which the drivers are working—and which expires May 1—calls for a flat weekly wage of $10, plus a commission of 7 per cent on all sales of bread amounting to more than $200 a week. The weekly wage of the employes averages $350 a week, on $100 of which the driver receives a 7 per cent commission. The average earnings of the bakery wagon drivers are therefore $31.50 a week. A man with long routes, earn as much as $100 a week.

Present earnings are said by the employers to be the largest paid to similar work anywhere in the United States. They are also said to be more than the men are actually worth or can earn in any other line of work.

Added to the fact that flour and the other ingredients of a loaf of bread have risen 100 per cent in price during the last year, the baking of bread in the home has fallen off to a considerable extent, and the sale of bakery products has increased accordingly. With the increased commission earned by the drivers—the increase being estimated at from 17 to 30 per cent.

Demand Flat Increase. They now demand a flat increase of 25 cents a week, making the new wages $10.25 a week, plus 7 per cent commission on sales in excess of $200, which, at the present rate, would make a total wage of $32.50 a week.

They say meetings have been held between the committee of bakery owners and the union of bakery wagon drivers, headed by P. G. Wagner, its president. At that meeting the demands of the men were presented, and the owners refused to accede to them. The men say they are willing to arbitrate.

During the last year the price of the whole loaf of bread to the consumer has risen from 5 to 6 cents and the price of some sizes of loaves has risen as much as 10 cents. In some cities further advances in the price of bread already have been made, and it is suggested that as a result of the bread dispute similar steps probably may be made in Chicago. It is probable that, whatever the result of the present controversy, an advance in the retail price of bread will be made during the next month.

Calls Figures Outrageous. The following statement was made last night by M. De Pries, business agent of the Bakery Teamsters' union: "In demanding the $32.50 the bakery owners are only seeking insurance of a kind for themselves and their shareholders for the next three years. The $10.25 is outrageous. In reality the average wage of the men is between $25 and $30, and in many cases the practice of splitting the wage makes it possible for the teamster to make but $21 a week."

Apollo Club Gets Plan for Its Reorganization

The Apollo Musical Club held a meeting last night to hear the report of the committee on reorganization formed several weeks ago. The plan put forward by the members as, in outline, recommended; but an incidental feature of the meeting was the fact that the committee had been unable to put the question of the dues from the duties involved in the reorganization. The details of the plan will be published in the next issue of the club's bulletin.

ASSAIL DUNNE

Aldermanic Committee on Committees Stirred by Traction Ruling.

S. T. AUGUSTINE, Fla., April 19.—When word reached here that the Illinois Supreme court had denied Chicago's claim to a degree of home rule over its traction service, there was an indignation meeting. Six Chicago aldermen, several of whom have been prominent in local transportation matters, blamed ex-Gov. Edward F. Dunne.

The aldermen have been here ten days trying to make up the state for the decision of the new city council. One of their hardest tasks has been the transportation committee, but tonight they are tempted to scratch it off the slate completely.

"For this let Chicago hold Dunne responsible," said Ald. W. J. Healy. "We made three trips to Springfield to endeavor to preserve home rule for Chicago. On one of these trips we urged Dunne not to sign the public utilities bill. Former Corporation Counsel Sexton told him what it might mean. But he did sign it. That was the act which caused the present trouble."

"That's Mother Dunne for you," said Ald. John A. Richter. "And now he's four flushings about municipal ownership," said Ald. John Haderlein.

"It's a tremendous blow to the car riders," said Ald. A. J. Fisher. "I won't say what I think about it, because I don't use that kind of language out loud, but Dunne was a traitor to Chicago when he signed the utilities bill."

Several of the aldermen suggested that public meetings be called to start a crusade for home rule.

CENTRAL TRUST HELD LIABLE IN LORIMER FAILURE

Supreme Court Says Bank Must Pay Up to $1,250,000.

The Central Trust Company of Illinois was held by the Supreme court yesterday to be liable to the creditors of the defunct La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank for the difference between the $1,250,000 capital of the latter bank and the value of the assets and surplus of the La Salle Street National bank. The decision of the Circuit court of Cook county was reversed in part. The upper court held that stockholders of the defunct bank who owned stock at the time of its suspension on June 12, 1914, were liable for double their stock, upholding the lower court in this particular. Stockholders who sold their holdings previous to the failure are exempted from liability.

Valuation in Doubt. Evidence in the case of the decision of yesterday, is not sufficiently clear to determine the value of the assets and surplus of the national bank at the time it was reorganized into a state bank. The action against the Central Trust company arose from evidence brought out after the failure of the La Salle Street bank that officers of the latter bank deposited their notes with the cashier for $1,250,000. A cashier's check for this amount was drawn and taken to the Central Trust company. The latter bank thereupon exhibited to the state auditor the actual cash called for in the check. The money did not leave the Central Trust company's office. The check was later returned to the La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank.

Conflicting Statements. Attorneys in the case made conflicting statements as to the meaning of the decision of the Supreme court. Alfred S. Austrian, an attorney for Receiver W. C. Niblack, said that the decision holds the Central Trust company liable for the full $1,250,000, with the provision that it is to be credited with any amount of assets in excess of liabilities. "The Supreme court holds in substance," said Mr. Austrian, "that if the assets of the national bank were worth more than its debts the Central Trust company is entitled to a credit for the excess, and this excess should be deducted from the $1,250,000."

H. B. Hurd, attorney for the Central Trust company, said that on the basis of the figures prepared by accountants it is impossible to know how the impairment can be made under any circumstances except $300,000.

TRACTION RULING PERILS MILLIONS OF CITY INCOME

Court Gives Control of Lines to State Utilities Board.

The last vestige of control of rates, service, and equipment of the street railway lines yesterday was wrested from the Chicago city council by the decision of the state Supreme court upholding the powers of the public utilities commission.

The effect of the opinion, according to lawyers, is to establish the supremacy of the commission in all traction regulation, regardless of contract ordinances between the city and the companies.

The only right reserved to the city is the right to decide what street cars or companies shall operate in its streets and to designate the streets.

City's Income Periled. So sweeping is the court's ruling that city officials fear it may enable the utilities commission to wipe out the city's 66 per cent of the traction receipts, amounting to more than $2,000,000 a year. No doubt is entertained that the ruling nullifies the power of the board of supervising engineers, of which Blon J. Arnold is chairman. In some quarters it is believed the ultimate result will be to knock out the board altogether.

While gloom pervaded the city hall, members of the utilities commission were jubilant. They regarded the decision not only as a victory for the commission but also as a boon to the strap-hangers.

Better Service Involved. The case involved primarily an order entered by the commission directing the street car companies to provide additional service, and this order was sustained by the court, with the qualification that its reasonableness or sufficiency was not at issue.

The decision is highly gratifying," said Chairman William L. O'Connell of the utilities commission. "I believe it will result in great benefits for the public. Our order provided for more seats for passengers during rush hours and also the use of trailers as a temporary means of relief until a permanent plan was devised."

"I feel certain that if the provisions of that order are carried out—and we now have the power to enforce them—street car service will be improved in Chicago."

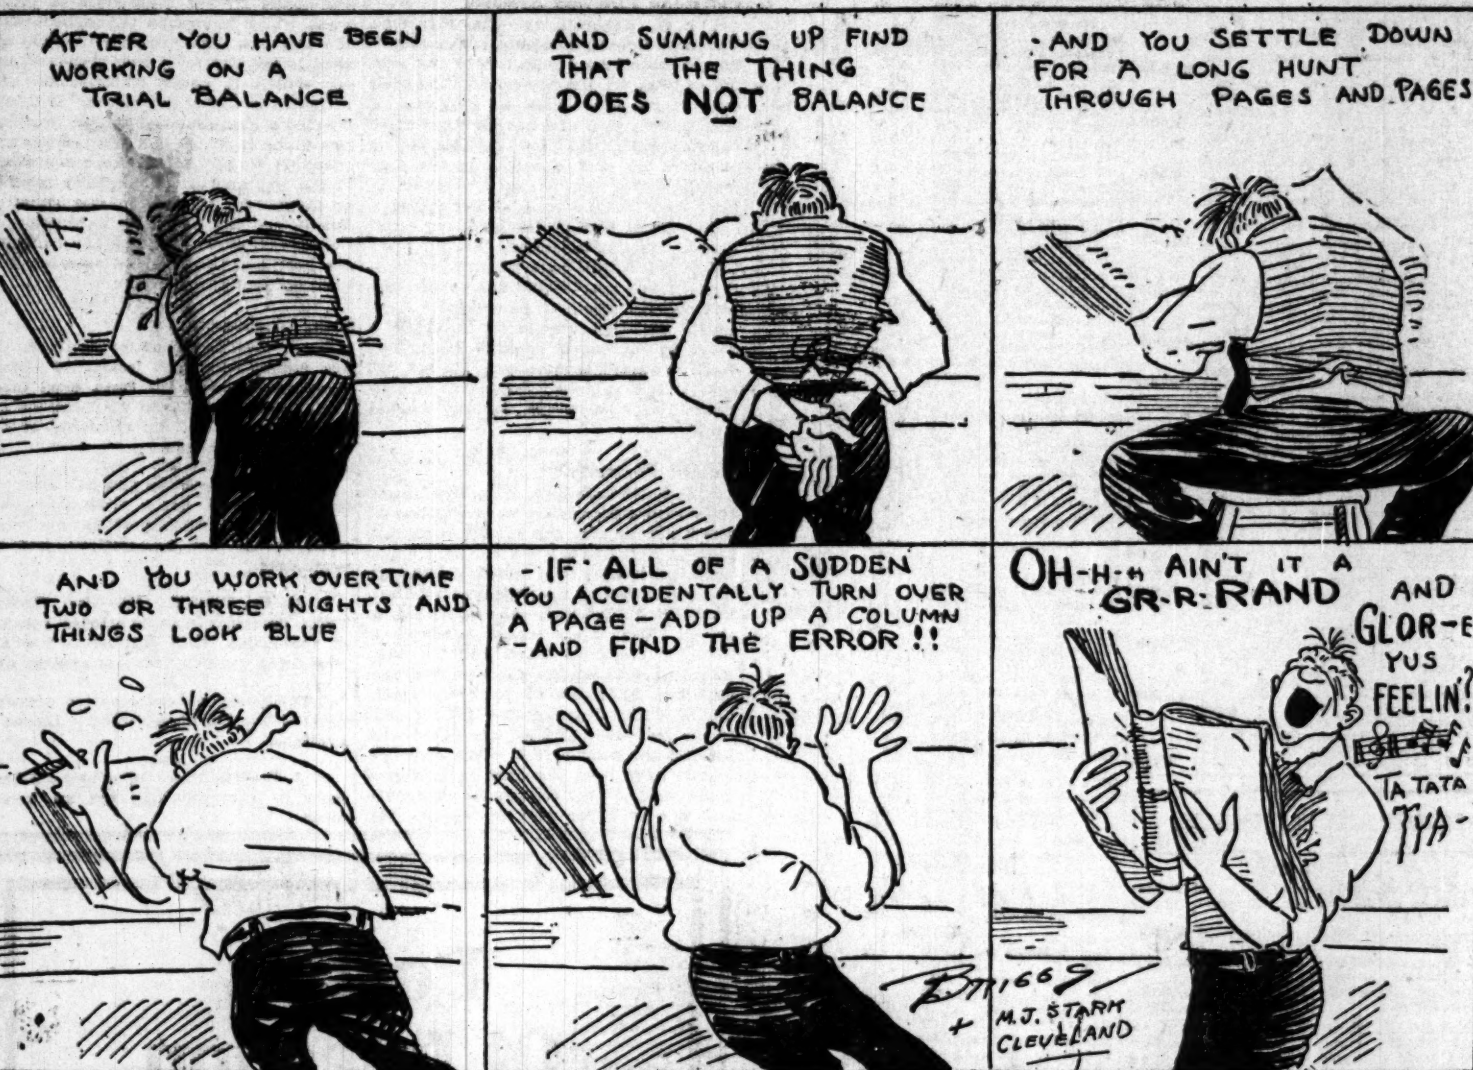

City May Appeal. The city law department is considering appealing the case to the United States Supreme court on the ground that the decision impairs the contracts between the city and the companies as embodied in the 1907 and 1913 traction ordinances.

"The decision may have one good effect," said Ald. H. D. Captain, chairman of the council transportation committee. "It ought to crystallize sentiment into such a demand for home rule that the legislature will pass the city's bill at this session."

Mayor Thompson promised a traction bond for the first council meeting Monday afternoon. "I am going to send a message to the council that will stir things up," the mayor said. "I am tired of these years of inaction. Since my first message two years ago no headway whatsoever has been made."

Contracts Held Valid. While the Supreme court held the contracts between the city and the company valid and binding, one section of the opinion tends to make even these contracts subject to rulings by the utilities board. It is this section that is held to endanger not only the city's 66 per cent but also its option to purchase the lines. The text follows: "If the city of Chicago in entering into the contracts with the railway companies has seen fit to make its option to purchase the street railway system or its right to a certain portion of the net receipts from the operation of the system or any other rights reserved to it by the ordinance, dependent upon the nonexercise of the police power by the state, it cannot be heard to complain by the city of the police power by the state through the state public utilities commission it will lose its rights to those benefits reserved to it by the ordinance."

AIN'T IT A GRAND AND GLORIOUS FEELIN'?

FEARS FIANCE IS VICTIM OF MEXICAN PLOT

Death of J. C. Johnson May Have Been Murder by Nemesis.

Was Julius C. Johnson, formerly employed as bookkeeper by the Outcall Advertising company, 608 South Dearborn street, and who was found dead in an obscure rooming house at Watertown, Wis., yesterday, the victim of a Mexican nemesis? This is the question that his friends and fiancée, Mrs. Gertrude Fahrenkling of 6611 Harper avenue, are asking themselves. Johnson was reputed to be comfortably well off, having several thousand dollars in various banks and being part owner with his sister of a valuable estate in St. Louis, which was left in trust by his mother.

He was engaged to be married to Mrs. Fahrenkling on March 31, but on March 23 he mysteriously disappeared. At the time of his death he was working as a cook in a Watertown restaurant, having arrived there on April 7.

In Constant Fear of Greasers. Johnson, who was 37 years old, formerly conducted a hotel in Chihuahua City, Mexico, where he made considerable money, and from information imparted to his fiancée from time to time it was gathered that he was in constant fear of Mexican government agents. He told Mrs. Fahrenkling on one occasion that during the troublous times accompanying the overthrow and assassination of Madero certain leading revolutionists held a conference in his hotel. He said he had nothing to do with the meeting but he was aware of it, and because he did not interfere he was deemed in on it. His life was threatened; he was forced to close his hotel and flee the country. He claimed to have an indemnity of $12,000 against the Mexican government for damages done to his hotel but feared to collect it.

Fiancee Upset by Death. Mrs. Fahrenkling was greatly upset by the news of her fiancée's death. "I met Mr. Johnson last July," she said last night. "He told me he had had trouble in Mexico and was afraid to go into business for himself for fear he would be molested by Mexicans. He talked a great deal about the country and seemed to be in daily fear of some danger. I feel certain that he must have received some sort of a warning, as otherwise he would not disappear so suddenly."

FIND THE BODY OF WATCHMAN; RIVER SLAYING?

A victim of river thieves, it is supposed, the body of Emil Lehman, 4030 Winthrop avenue, a watchman for a private agency, was taken from the Chicago river near the Chicago avenue bridge yesterday. The body was frightfully mutilated, the heart cut out, an arm cut off, and the throat slashed. It is believed the body was further mutilated by the propeller blades of tugs plying in the river. Lehman disappeared on the night of Feb. 24. On the day before this he reported to his principals that he had engaged in a revolver fight with a crew of river ruffians whom he had caught in the act of robbing along the warehouses. It is believed by the police he was murdered out of revenge. Most of the clothing was gone from the body, lending the suspicion Lehman was stripped of his clothing before being thrown into the river.

SIX DIE, SCORE ARE INJURED, IN INDIANA BLAZE

Indianapolis, Ind., April 19.—[Special.]—Fire tonight in the Colfax building in North Meridian street caused the death of six persons and injury of a score of others. The names of the dead follow: Dr. Marsha E. Keller, burned to death in her office. Harry Rowland, aged 13, employee of the Cole Motor company. Mrs. Griffin, aged 50. Miss Leona Griffin, aged 18, employed at the Holland Photo studio. Robert Griffin, aged 14. Mrs. Ella Vinson, aged 46. Dr. Keller, who had lived here several years, was one of the leading women physicians of Indiana. The origin of the fire is a mystery. There was a film exchange in the rear part of the building, and it is believed by firemen that the blaze started there. The Linden and Royal hotels were slightly damaged.

Woman Asks $20,000 for Blighted Affections

Mrs. Hedwig Abel, 643 West North avenue, filed a suit for $20,000 damages charging J. Schink, 1722 Addison street, with breach of promise in the Circuit court yesterday. Schink has been paying court to Mrs. Abel and has refused to marry her, according to attorney Hugo Radan.

COUNCIL BODY'S WIDE INQUIRY UPHOLDS SACHS

Committee's Report Rebukes Doctor's Critics.

Indication for the late Dr. Theodore B. Sachs' administration of the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium is one of the chief features of the report which will be submitted to the council finance committee today by the sanitarium subcommittee. The report represents the conclusions of the aldermen based on dozens of hearings and an exhaustive investigation by the committee's efficiency staff. The subcommittee consists of Ald. Richard, Captain, Nance, and Littler.

Rebuke to Critics. Facts and figures presented are said to constitute a rebuke to the efforts of administration forces and especially Arthur B. McCord, attorney for the present sanitarium board, to discredit Dr. Sachs. "We did not find a scintilla of evidence to support the charge that Dr. Sachs used the sanitarium to build up his private practice, as was charged by McCord et al.," said Ald. Captain, acting chairman. "Neither did we discover any evidence that the Sachs regime was inefficient and extravagant. It is true that the cottages were built at greater expense than similar structures elsewhere, but this does not take into consideration the difference in circumstances which would account for the difference in cost. Dr. Sachs may have made mistakes, but we found nothing that would reflect on his ability and integrity."

Rival Investigation. While the finance committee has been making its inquiry, the civil service commission has been conducting a rival investigation, which has been characterized by the Committee of One Hundred as an attempt to besmirch Dr. Sachs' reputation. The finance committee's report is expected to forestall the report of the merit board.

LOEB RULE WINS; TEACHERS PLAN FINAL APPEAL

Board Can Decline to Re-employ, State Supreme Court Holds.

The Chicago Teachers' federation received a body blow from the state Supreme court yesterday in the decision upholding the school board's authority to employ teachers and to refuse to re-employ those it deems unfit.

The decision was upon the Loeb rule under which sixty-eight teachers were dropped from the rolls last June—a majority of them being members of the Teachers' federation, whose activities, under the leadership of Margaret Haley, were deemed by the board to be insubordinate.

There are said to be 3,000 members of the federation in the grade schools and 400 more are high school teachers who are in affiliated organizations. It is said that only about 1,000 of the teachers are active.

Miss Haley said last night the case would be appealed to the United States Supreme court.

There is said to be no intention to attempt any wholesale ousting of teachers, even if the matter is not held up for another year or more by an appeal to the federal Supreme court. The new school law, which has passed both houses at Springfield, provides for a tenure of office for teachers. No teacher may be dropped from the list without a trial. In the present case, when the rule is put into operation, every teacher affected, who did not wish to resign from the federation, could demand a trial. There will be no labor unions in the public schools.

President Loeb was jubilant over the court's decision.

Here is the gist of what the court holds: "The board has the absolute right to decline to employ or to reemploy any applicant for any reason whatever, and for no reason at all. The board is responsible for its action only to the people of the city from whom, through the board, the members have received their appointment."

It is no infringement upon the constitutional rights of any one for the board to decline to employ as a teacher whether the reason for the refusal to employ him is because the applicant is married or unmarried, is of fair complexion, is dark, is or is not a member of a trade union, or whether no reason is given. The board is not bound to give any reason for its action. It is free to contract with whoever it chooses. Questions of policy are solely for the determination of the board and when the courts will not inquire into their propriety."

History of Case.

The school board passed the Loeb rule Sept. 1, 1915. On Sept. 14 Judge John M. O'Connor granted a temporary injunction. On Nov. 29, 1916, Judge Sullivan denied the board's petition to dismiss the injunction. On May 1, 1916, the Appellate court upheld Judge Sullivan. Sixty-eight teachers were dropped June 27, 1916. Many of them were federation leaders. That action was not a part of the Loeb rule case, however. Since that time the fight between the federation and the board of education has been at a standstill.

LEACOCK CALLS BARD OF AVON 'LITERARY THIEF'

Stephen Leacock, humorist and professor of political economy at the McGill university, Montreal, lectured on the "Mutability of Literary Forms" at the University of Chicago yesterday. Shakespeare, according to Mr. Leacock, was a "literary thief."

CARSON PIRIE SCOTT & Co.New Fashions in Misses' Apparel

Are in the Assortments Moderately Priced

HERE'S a whole spring outfitting opportunity awaiting. Indeed, the young women who bring their apparel problems here this week-end will find these sections a source of satisfaction and profit.The New Jersey Cloth Coats Embroidered
Are Here in the Style Sketched at $27.50

The colorings are refreshingly different—an odd gray green and a most becoming shade of blue. The embroidery is, as it should be this season, gay and striking.

Jersey cloth coats with deep pockets are $18.75. Still others with touches of Khaki Kool to $50.

Misses' Suits of Blue Serge, $25 and $35

At $25—the suit, pictured at the center below, is after the tailored mode, but girlish in line withal. The Shantung collar is of uncommon cut.

At $35—the suit, pictured at the right below, may serve for afternoon as well as street wear. As to details—a deep collar of dotted pongee and Japanese metal buttons.

At $22.50 and $35—Jersey cloth sports suits, checked suits in severe lines, and variety delightful in dark color suits.

And Now—A New Street
Frock at $37.50

Pictured below at the left. Fashioned of navy blue serge with the soutache braiding in either gray or beige. The soft satin collar is most becoming.

At $15 to $25 one can choose serge dresses in many styles. At $40 a very new coat dress has a full pleated skirt and simple, straight bodice with a deep collar.

Suits for Girls of Ten to SixteenThrough a Very Special Purchase Just Arrived
Are Priced at $12.75 and $15

This is one of the most advantageous and interesting offerings this section has made.

The pricing is most unusual. But it becomes of secondary importance when one actually see the suits it marks.

There Are Suits of Serges, of Checks, Suits of Gabardines, of Pique Twills and Sports Suits of Jersey Cloths

The fabrics are of a quality one never would associate with these prices. The same is true of the workmanship. And then the fashion side is fascinating.

Here is a suit with box pleated skirt and coat to correspond. One notes gay striped collars of silk—some of Khaki Kool. Metal buckles on belts—even the buttons are uncommonly attractive. And the linings are as pretty as girls could wish.

From This Splendid Variety Are Pictured—

Suits of blue serge edged in white or gold—sketched at the left, $15. Suits with suspender skirts and box coats—sketched at the right, $12.75. Suits of serge, box pleated all around—sketched in the center, $15. There is plenty of choice—but many are here in only a few to the style—so early selection is deemed advisable.

Fourth floor, South.
